Garage Opponents Want Council to Hear Protests

Three neighbors of Collins' proposed garage on Chambers Street are asking Superior Court to compel Borough Council to hear their protests against the garage.

The complainants are Donald Pickering, the dentist who owns the building at 22 Chambers, across from the garage; Ann Stockton, whose real estate firm is at 32 Chambers, and Edith Zuckerman, who owns Edith's Lingerie at 32 Nassau, between Chambers and Bank Street. The list originally included Eric Mihan Sr., owner of The English Shop and Mrs. Zuckerman's landlord, but Mr. Mihan is not a party to the Superior Court action, according to his attorney, John Selecky.

Last March, the group, protesting Planning Board approval of the garage, appealed to Borough Council, according to procedures set forth in the Borough's land use law. But Collins said the group had missed the deadline. Under the land use law, appeals must be filed within ten days from the date of publication following approval.

Collins had published this notice in The Trenton Times of February 4. Ten days would be February 14. The Borough itself, according to Mr. Selecky, published its own notice on February 17. He says he was assured by the Planning Board that he had plenty of time and, in fact, was only one day "out of line". But the Collins firm took the position that the protesters were too late for a Council hearing.

Mr. Selecky's clients want Superior Court to order Council to hear the appeal. The basics of the appeal itself aren't before the court, Mr. Selecky pointed out.

The three garage neighbors base their disapproval of the garage on a proposed drive-in bank at the foot of John Street, where it intersects with Hulfish. They say that traffic problems are inevitable, as cars line up on John Street, waiting for their turn at the drive-in.

They have also warned of traffic congestion at Hulfish and John, and of confrontations between trucks on John Street making deliveries to stores, and cars lined up to do business at the drive-in bank.

Fire Commission Would Like Study Done On Future Needs of Town's Department

What kind of fire department will Princeton need in ten or 20 years? The Fire Commission, composed of Princeton residents and officials, and representatives of the three volunteer fire companies, thinks it might be time to take a new look at Princeton's whole fire-fighting system. Paul Szymanski, consultant for the Planning Board, has suggested the 10-to-20-year look. Borough Fire Commissioner Richard Woodbridge says it hinges on whether the two governing bodies want to pay to take the look.

"We are very lucky to have the kind of fire department we have," says Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

He and Fire Chief Raymond Wadsworth hope for a nice, big crowd on Friday, June 25, when the fire companies hold their annual inspection. It's a parade, and it will start from Chestnut Street at 7 p.m. In proud ranks, the fire-fighters, joined by police and members of the First Aid and Rescue Squad, will march down Nassau to Borough Hall, arriving there at 8 p.m.

"It's the one time in the year when the fire department and police and members of the Rescue Squad are together," Mayor Cawley points out. "Say 'Thanks!' to them both, by being there."

At the inspection, 13 members of the three companies will be honored for long service. One — F. Karl Bohn — will receive a special badge for 50 years as a Princeton fireman.

Others are Alexander Duthie and Peter J. McCrohan (45 years);

St. Paul's School Marks 100th Anniversary In Midst of Deep Concern About Its Future

St. Paul elementary school is celebrating its 100th anniversary this month, with an eye on an uncertain future.

The celebration began with a celebrated Mass for students, parents and friends in St. Paul Roman Catholic Church. The school has been a part of the St. Paul parish since 1881 when Father Thomas Moran, priest from 1867 to 1900, built the school and the convent for the six Sisters of Mercy whom he brought down from New Hampshire to help him run the school and the religious education program.

There was also a surprise party for all the children, complete with a cake with 100 candles and clowns, and special student performances of "Oliver" June 4 and 5 are planned to cap off the anniversary.

But beneath the festivities there is deep concern on the part of the clergy and the nuns. The school is at a critical point and its future is uncertain. The anxiety stems from the decision announced earlier in the year to split the Diocese of Trenton, of which Princeton and St. Paul's are a part, and to form a new diocese with Metuchen as its seat.

What is feared is that the new diocese, containing as it does, the newer and more rapidly growing suburban communities with more affluent Catholics who have been a part of St. Paul's parish will drain financial support and subsequently, pupils, from St. Paul's school as new parochial schools are built in those communities.

The split is the second historically for the Diocese — Camden was once a part of Trenton — and was initiated by the bishop because the diocese had become too large and unwieldy to administer. But from the perspective of the Rev. Evasio DeMarcellis of St. Paul's, it is "one heck of a blow to the parish" and a form of religious gerrymandering.

Before the split, which became effective with the installation of the Most Rev. Theodore E. McCarrick as Bishop of Metuchen this winter, the Trenton Diocese included eight counties. In the new arrangement, Mercer, Monmouth, Burlington and Ocean counties remain under the jurisdiction of Trenton, and Middlesex, Somerset, Hunterdon and Warren constitute the new Diocese of Metuchen.

Police Charge Ewing Man With 2 Rapes in Township

A 23-year-old Ewing Township resident has been charged with the rape of two 16-year-old Township girls last September 11 near the intersection of Walnut Lane and Terhune Road.

Derick Hardwick, 1309 Country Lane, was arrested at 5:30 p.m. Friday by Ewing Township police officers and held in $300,000 bail. Charged with two counts of aggravated sexual assault and two of possession of a knife, Hardwick was arraigned Monday before Mercer County Superior Judge A. Jerome Moore. His $300,000 bail was continued ($150,000 on each charge) and he was taken to Mercer County Jail in lieu of bail.

Township Chief Frederick Porter said that the next step would be a presentment to a Mercer County Grand Jury for possible indictment.

Hardwick had been released May 14 from the Middlesex County Jail after posting bail on a charge of raping a 22-year-old Scanticon International Hotel employee on March 26. He was being held in lieu of $150,000 bail.

On September 11, Hardwick is alleged to have approached the two Township teenagers as they were walking on Walnut Lane near Terhune and terrorized them with an eight-inch knife. He allegedly threatened to kill them if they did not submit to his advances.

After binding their wrists and taping their eyes shut, Hardwick allegedly raped each one.

According to the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office, police received a break in their investigation when Hardwick attempted to pick up a girl at the intersection of Nassau and Harrison Streets on March 26. Police questioned Hardwick and released him.

Later that night, he is alleged to have kidnapped and assaulted the Scanticon employee in the hotel parking lot.

During the attack, he allegedly pushed her into her car, taped her eyes shut and shoved a knife into her mouth, threatening to kill her if she resisted. Hardwick was arrested that morning and charged with attempted murder, kidnapping and aggravated assault.

St. Paul's School

Some parishes cover a wide territory, crossing more than one county line, and it is these parishes which will lose sections of their territory to the new diocese.

Examples are St. Alphonsus in Hopewell, which loses one half of Montgomery Township, St. Anthony's in Hightstown, which lost Cranbury, and St. Paul's. St. Paul's is a huge parish encompassing seven communities and two mission churches. The parish includes Princeton Borough and Township; West Windsor and Plainsboro, which are served by the recently organized St. David's Mission, Kingston, Rocky Hill and that part of Montgomery Township served by St. James Mission.

Under the split, St. Paul's stands to lose Plainsboro, which is in Middlesex County, and all of St. James Mission, and integral part of the parish since 1908. Plainsboro and Montgomery are viewed by Father DeMarcellis as a big loss as these are areas attracting younger and more affluent Catholic couples. Catholics living in Princeton are "dying off," he says.

A co-educational elementary school serving grades K through 8, St. Paul's has students who come from an even wider area than that covered by the parish. Of its 391 pupils, 204 are children of non-parishioners, (140 of these are from East Windsor alone.) and 42 are non-Catholics. Under the split, half of the 144 children who actually live in the parish will "belong" to Metuchen, and St. Paul School will have only 71 pupils who are truly from the parish.

As Father DeMarcellis puts it, "Two-thirds of our parish will be cut off, and that part is the growing part." "The problem is a financial one in that the parishioners will have to support a school that is not a true parochial school, he adds, "and the burden will be on the parish."

Until the 1960's parochial school children did not pay tuition, but as costs and as fewer women entered the convent, requiring the hiring of professionally trained teachers, tuition was assessed, and has risen with the costs. Today, a parish family pays $450 to send a child to St. Paul for a year, and tuition is $650 for a non-parish family.

Subsidy Required. The per pupil cost is $850, however, and the balance is born by the parish in a subsidy that has risen from $60,000 a few years ago to $107,000 or 35 percent of the 1981-82 parish budget. In addition to the annual tuition charge, parents are expected to make contributions to the Sunday collection plate to help meet this subsidy.

St. Paul school budget for 1981-82 is $287,000, of which tuition will contribute $156,000, P.T.A. fund raising $25,000, and the subsidy the balance. In addition to expenses for heat and light and repairs, it costs $14,000 for heat and light and repairs for the convent. Seven of the teaching staff are Sisters of Mercy and live with four retired nuns in a convent designed for 15 or 16, Father DeMarcellis says.

Along with rising costs, and the prospect of educational costs for more non-parish children being underwritten by a shrinking parish population, St. Paul's faces the loss of substantial contribution from all of its St. James Mission and half of its St. David Mission. These collections help meet the school subsidy.

One solution, as Father DeMarcellis sees it, is for the school to become regionalized, with each sending parish contributing proportionately to the costs of the school, rather than the school being the sole responsibility of St. Paul's parish. Many of the churches seem willing to do this, but the final decision rests with Trenton Bishop John Reiss and with Monsignor Thomas A. Luebking, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools.

$800 Tuition Possible. Failing this, Father DeMarcellis sees no other alternative than to assess a flat $800 annual tuition to parishioners and non-parishioners alike. He is concerned that many of the East Windsor and New Brunswick families will not be able to pay that much.

At the end of June, the mandate from the new bishop of Metuchen to St. Paul's to continue to serve the areas belonging to the parish that are now in the new diocese will run out. Decisions as to which church residents of Montgomery, Rocky Hill, Kingston, and Plainsboro will belong have not been made by the new bishop as he organizes the new diocese.

But if these children wish to continue at St. Paul School in the fall, they will do so as non-parishioners. It is hoped that the churches to which they will be assigned will also wish to support the school on a per pupil basis. If they do not, and if the parents can not bear the full educational costs, there is a real possibility the school may have to go out of existence or cut down radically.

Father DeMarcellis hopes that by January the unknown of whether there is support for the school and where it will be coming from will be known.

Three-Fold Ministry. Meanwhile the school will continue in its philosophy of educating children in the values of Christian living. It sees its ministry as three-fold: to convey God's message, to develop Christian fellowship and to render service to the community. Values are important, and the doctrine of the Roman Catholic faith is taught in a full class period every day at every level.

"Hopefully it overflows into other areas," says Sister Mary Valerie, the principal, with a smile. There are two classes of about 28 children each for each grade, and the day is made up of 45-minute class periods. In addition to the daily religion class, children learn the language arts, reading, writing, and penmanship, mathematics, social studies and science.

Music, art and physical education classes meet once a week with special teachers, and French and Spanish are offered to grades 3-8 after school. Uniforms are required for all boys and girls, and discipline is stressed along with community service projects on behalf of organizations such as the Red Cross and the Florence Crittenton Home.

The older boys have Saturday basketball games with other CYO (Catholic Youth Organization) teams in the diocese, but after-school activities such as plays or musicals are held to a minimum because of the distance many parents have to come to pick up their children.

National Catholic School week and open house is held in February and serves as the prime recruiting effort for the school. "We don't seem to have a recruiting problem," says Sister Valerie who feels that Catholic families who care about Catholic education for their children will continue to seek out the school. She acknowledges, with Father DeMarcellis, that "right now is a most difficult time" because of the uncertainty over the school's future.

23 United Way Agencies to Share $954,807; Overall Increase in Budgets Comes to 9.1%

The 23 United Way agencies asked for 1983 funding amounting to $1,062,297, and got trustee approval for $954,807, it was announced this week. The United Way will begin distributing the allocations in July, instead of January as before. Earlier this year, the board of trustees decided to change the allocation year from a calendar to a fiscal year.

This year's citizen committees that review each agency's request, placed a greater emphasis than before on need, according to Joseph Townsend, citizen review chairman.

"Committee members appeared to be more discriminating as to need, and were acutely aware that agencies are under additional financial pressure," he said.

There was a wide disparity in allocations. Mr. Townsend said the committee felt this was necessary, in the face of government cuts in social service spending.

The review panels were asked to stay inside a five-to-ten percent increase. The overall increase came out to 9.1 percent.

Who Got What. In the budget process, each agency is reviewed by one of the citizen panels. Members decide whether to grant the agency's request or change it — usually by reducing it. These recommendations are then passed along to the full budget committee and the United Way trustees, where the final decisions are made. Most of the time, the trustees accept panel recommendations, although alterations are occasionally made.

Although not every agency got what it asked for — and some received sharply less than they wanted — no agency was cut back from the amount it had been allocated before.

One of the deepest cuts was made in the YMCA's request for $108,758. Trustees approved $86,900, or $21,858 less; however, that is more than the current allocation of $80,800. The YWCA, asking for $110,153, will get $98,937 — a cut from the request, but still more than the YW's current $89,943.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters found its request sliced by more than half: from $39,296 to $18,009. This agency is currently receiving $16,372. The American Association for the Mentally Handicapped asked for $43,500, but will receive only $32,000, compared to its present allocation of $27,000.

The Community Guidance request for $92,000 was pared down to $81,076. That agency is now receiving $76,500. Family Service, which submitted a budget of $123,500, was cut back to $118,301. The agency's 1982 allocation was $107,000. The Hightstown-East Windsor YMCA wanted $53,024, but must settle for $49,875, about $2,000 more than it now has from the Way.

In smaller agency requests, Eden Institute (for autistic children) will receive $9,500 instead of the requested $9,900; The Children's Home Society, $7,000 instead of the requested $8,000; the University-NOW Day Nursery $2,000 instead of the $3,000 it asked for. The nursery is currently budgeted for $2,000. In the other two cases, the allotted amount for 1983 is more than what the agency is receiving today.

The Delaware-Raritan Girl Scout Council hoped for $33,000, but will receive $28,000 and the Rolling Hills Girl Scouts, $6,600 instead of the requested $7,557.

Request Granted. There were agencies who came away happy. Those who were granted their requests are these:

- Better Beginnings: $14,574 (current: $10,574)
- Princeton Nursery School: $32,812 (current: $30,000)
- Family Counseling Service: $1,958 (current: $1,403)
- Homemakers: $13,500 (current: $13,275)
- Jewish Family Service: $12,980 (current: $11,000)
- Boy Scouts: $40,000 (current: $34,700)
- N.J. Retarded Citizens: $16,300 (current: $15,000)
- Florence Crittenton: $7,000 (current: $6,000)
- Crawford House: $5,000 (new agency)

•Womanspace: $9,000 (current: $7,500)

The American Red Cross and the United Way are partners, and the Red Cross' budget is determined by a separate committee, apart from the regular budget procedure. The Red Cross asked for and received $150,782, up from the current budget of $144,497.

The Council of Community Services, the Way's planning, referral and information arm, was granted a 1983 budget of $63,703. The Council had asked for a $5,000 contingency because it must find a new executive, but the Way decided if it needed the money, it could make the request at the time. Currently, the Council's budget is $59,047.

A joint Council-Way committee is discussing the idea of incorporating the Council into the United Way, rather than having it separate, the way it is now.

The United Way itself will operate on a budget of $171,610, increased from the 1982 budget of $162,000.

These figures do not include the Title XX contracts between the United Way and Better Beginnings, the Princeton Nursery School, the Princeton YWCA, and Catholic Welfare. Title XX is social service money from the Federal government, channeled through the state. For every dollar the United Way contributes to an agency, the state pays $3.

The Way contributes, in Title XX contracts, $32,812 to the Princeton Nursery School; $6,000 to Catholic Welfare; $23,461 to Better Beginnings and $7,362 to the Princeton YWCA.

This money, plus miscellaneous money for contingencies, uncollected pledges, repairs and replacements and the like, must be raised in the United Way's fall campaign. So far, no campaign goal has been set. Last year's campaign raised $1,177,109.

NEW LAIDLAW PLANS

With Residential Units. Hoping that something homey like a pair of two-bedroom residential units may soften the Planning Board, the Laidlaw brokerage firm will go back to the board next Tuesday (7:30 p.m. Valley Road) with revised plans for the vacant property at 138 Nassau. The board turned down the original plans for Laidlaw's office building.

The board will also hear the request of The Medical Center at Princeton to convert half of one floor in Lambert House, the residence for nurses, into meeting-room space. The Borough Zoning Board has upheld the ruling of the zoning officer that conditional use approval is required if the hospital wants to make this change.

Another item on the agenda is a discussion with Princeton Bank about building a drive-in at the Princeton Shopping Center.

In Laidlaw's new plans, the building still has four stories. It still has offices on the street floor, second and third floors. But on the fourth floor are two, two-bedroom units. Whether they are destined to be apartments or condominiums, remains to be seen.

Borough engineer George Olexa pointed out this week that the building is now no longer an office building but a joint-occupancy building. This opens up a new and interesting chapter in the zoning ordinance, with a whole new series of requirements.

For example, a joint-occupancy building must meet "useable open space" specifications, provide various amenities and meet lot area requirements. It is, in fact, possible that Laidlaw may need more variances than it would have with its original office building.

EXPAND, CHANGE....

Variances Needed. Former Governor Richard Hughes and Mrs. Hughes will ask the Borough Zoning Board for the variance they need to create an apartment — a "secondary residence," in zoning terms — in their home at 40 Westcott Road. Their request is on the agenda for this Thursday's 8 p.m. meeting in Borough Hall.

They need a variance because the Borough's zoning law says that such an apartment may have only two rooms for living purposes, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes want three; also, following recent subdivision, their lot does not meet area requirements.

The board will also hear the request of LaVake's for a

The request of The Grotto Restaurant at 18 Witherspoon to install a walk-in refrigerator is also on Thursday's agenda.

WARNING IS ISSUED

On Pesticide Dumping. The Environmental Commission reminds Borough and Township residents that the discharge of wash water, waste water, or liquids other than normal storm runoff onto the ground, into storm drains, or into the streams and rivers of New Jersey is illegal and punishable to fines of up to $25,000 per day per violation.

This is of particular importance to Borough and Township residents now that Gypsy Moth season is approaching, and the possibility of pesticide residue being dumped poses a particular threat to the marine life and vegetation of Lake Carnegie, Stony Brook, Millstone River, Harry's Brook, Delaware and Raritan Canal, and other bodies of water.

It is common practice to wash out pesticide spray vehicles and equipment on open ground, into storm drains, or into the streams and tributaries of the watershed. While each pesticide has its own characteristic effects, most have some short-term toxicity to fish or have harmful effects on levels of dissolved oxygen in standing or slow moving water.

A series of state laws, particularly the "Water Pollution Control Act" and the "Safe Drinking Water Act" specifically forbid all discharges to the surface waters of the state other than normal rainfall runoff. It is, therefore, crucial that these residue wastewaters be discharged only into properly permitted facilities.

The Environmental Commission urges all Borough and Township residents to be on the lookout for incidents of potential ground and surface

Residents who see anyone washing commercial equipment or dumping wash waters or other liquids from a tank truck onto the road or into a field, storm drain, pond, stream, or other watershed area, are asked to note the date, time and vehicle identification (particularly the license plate) and send this information to the Borough and Township Environmental Commissioners, Valley Road Building, 369 Witherspoon Street. Residents are asked to provide name, address and phone number so that the commissioners may contact you for further information.

GIRL ASSAULTED

Near PDS Football Field. A 17-year-old Vineland hitchhiker, who had been picked up at the Route 206 Somerville Circle, was sexually assaulted Saturday near the Princeton Day School football field.

Borough police report that the driver, described as a white male, about 50 years old, 180 pounds, 5-5, with blondish-brown hair and wearing brown trousers and a brown and white striped shirt, allegedly made indecent advances toward the girl while driving south on Route 206 toward Princeton.

He left Route 206 and drove in the vicinity of the PDS football field, police said, where he exposed himself and made additional indecent advances. When the teenager resisted, he punched her in the stomach, police said.

The victim managed to escape when she jumped from the car near the intersection of Route 206 and Elm Road. The suspect's car is described as a small Chevy two-door, tan, with dark brown interior and bucket seats with a checkered panel in the center. The investigation is being continued by Det. Samuel Bianco and Det. Jerry Offredo, the Township Juvenile Officer.

The victim had originally reported the incident to Lawrence Township police, who notified Township police at 6:39 p.m.

According to police, Mr. Holman was traveling west on Rosedale and had passed another car when he lost control as he approached the bottom of a hill between Rosedale Lane and Fairway Drive. His 1975 Volkswagen Dasher skidded into the opposite lane, traveled 160 feet and smashed into a tree.

The victim, who suffered multiple injuries, had to be extracted from the wreckage by members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. The accident was investigated by Ptl. John Clausen, Ptl. David Funk and Sgt. Samuel Bianco.

Mr. Holman was born in Chicago and had lived in Princeton for 25 years. He was a graduate of Princeton High School and attended Rider College. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1967 to 1971. $10,000 LAMP STOLEN
From Mercer Street Apartment. A Tiffany lamp, valued at $10,000, was stolen between 1 and 3:30 last week from a Mercer Street apartment house.

Police said that the green and blue glass lamp had a 25-inch green shade, a turtle pattern and was signed Tiffany Studio. Also taken, police said, were three small Oriental rugs in poor condition valued at $25.

Police report that one of the occupants saw a man standing in the hallway and asked what he was doing there. He replied that he was giving a painting estimate. "Everybody went about their business," said Chief Michael Carnevale, and the occupants then left the apartment. They discovered the theft when they returned two-and-a-half hours later.

Gallery 100 of 100 Nassau Street reported the theft of a flag from outside its second-floor location. The $175 blue, purple and green banner with "Gallery 100" on it was taken between 5:30 Friday and 9:30 Saturday morning.

A black male in his 20s, wearing jeans and a red black plaid shirt is being sought by police for shoplifting two pairs of shoes valued at $113.95 from Hulit's, 140 Nassau Street.

Police said that the suspect, after being fitted with the shoes, walked out without paying for them when the clerk went back to the rear of the store.

A thief smashed a driver's side window to steal $200 worth of tools from the car of a University student while it was parked during the weekend in the Princeton Inn College lot, and an unlocked, $210, 10-speed bicycle was stolen Saturday during the five minutes the owner had left it unattended in front of Buxton's on Nassau Street.

Railroad Ties Taken. Six railroad ties, valued at $15 each, were stolen last week from a lot in front of Volvo of Princeton, 255 Nassau Street. Earlier, someone entered an unlocked office in Pyne Hall on the university campus and removed $75 to $80 in postage stamps from a desk drawer.

A student's $15 knapsack, left in the basement of the Woodrow Wilson Building was stolen last week around noon. Inside were $20 in books and a wallet containing $40.

Six parking meters in the Tulane West lot were opened and emptied of their estimated $20 in coins. The theft took place during a seven-day period and police report that a key was used to open the meters.

A $250 rototiller was stolen last week from a tool shed at Princeton Day School. A hasp had been broken off a lock to get inside the shed which is located near the school's garage area.

Moped Taken. A moped valued at $425 was removed from an unlocked garage of a Shady Brook Lane resident between 9:15 in the evening and 8 Thursday morning. The victim told police that a key was not needed to start the moped.

A Halsey Avenue resident listed the theft of his 1968 VW from a university lot of Washington Road. It was stolen between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. last Wednesday.

HOME IS RANSACKED
On Shady Brook Lane. When a Shady Brook Lane resident opened the front door of her house, after returning home at 10 p.m. last Wednesday, she discovered two briefcases filled with silver resting on the hallway floor and the interior ransacked.

All the rooms had been ransacked, police said, and items strewn about on the floor. Entry was gained through a rear cellar window. Township police report they have been unable to determine what was taken — if anything.

A similar fate awaited a Ewing Street resident upon returning home Sunday evening.

After the victim discovered a bathroom window broken, a check of the interior revealed that a jewelry box in a bedroom had been rifled. Police report, however, that nothing appears to have been taken.

Jewelry, Money Taken. Borough police report "a considerable amount of jewelry and money" was stolen last week between 8:20 a.m. and 7 in the evening from a Witherspoon Street apartment.

The intruder first cut open a storm screen window to open an unlocked bedroom window. The apartment was ransacked.

Police say that they have not received a report of the amount of money taken or a description of the missing jewelry. Det. Gerald Patterson is investigating.

SODA CASE CAPER
 Trail Leads to Suspect.
 When 71 cases of soda, valued at $439, disappeared from the basement of St. Paul's School over the weekend, police did not have a hard time tracking down the suspect.
 Ptl. Joseph Wihlem found cases stashed throughout the neighborhood and in shrubbery along Nassau Street. A juvenile was apprehended when police also found 26 cases of the soda stacked on the rear porch of the suspect's Chestnut Street home.
 The intruder had entered the school by forcing a cellar window, police said. The juvenile office is continuing with the investigation.

TWO ARE CHARGED

Stolen Jewelry on Display
 Are you a resident of the East Side of Princeton? Was your home burglarized between February and May? Did you lose some jewelry?
 Township police have announced that next Tuesday, June 8, from 10 to 2 they will have on display some 75 to 80 pieces of jewelry on the second floor of police headquarters, 1 Valley Road.
 Chief Frederick Porter said that the jewelry came into the possession of the Middlesex County Prosecutor's Office as a result of a joint investigation with Township police involving homes entered and burglarized on the east side of Princeton—Snowden Lane, Random Road, Shady Brooke Lane...on down toward Kingston. The thefts took place between February and May.
 Some of the jewelry has already been identified by a Township victim, Chief Porter reported. Those who sustained losses in these months are invited to view the jewelry for the purpose of identification for future recovery.
 They should bring with them, Chief Porter said, a copy of their police investigation report, listing details of the theft and property stolen.

FIRE, FLASH & SMASH

From Police Docket. Fire Flash and Smash does not refer to a law firm but three unrelated incidents culled from the police docket last week.

A piece of bread to thick for a pop-up toaster, thereby causing its cutoff mechanism to stick, is being blamed for starting a fire last week in an apartment at 35 Redding Circle. A counter top, closet, wall and ceiling — plus the toaster — were damaged in an ensuing fire, which had been extinguished by the time Ptl. Mario Musso arrived.

The flasher exposed himself to a woman as she was walking last week on Nassau Street near Tulane.

Police said that a black male dressed in green gym shorts, a yellow sweat shirt and sneakers confronted the woman and exposed himself. He was in his 20s, police said, about 5'7 tall and had a regular Afro hair style. A search of the area failed to uncover the suspect.

Three dining room windows on the second level of the Springdale Golf Club clubhouse were smashed last week by someone who tossed beer bottles through them.

NEW VEHICLE FOR SENIORS: The new Crosstown 62 transportation vehicle is a Ford Granada Station Wagon in which it is easier to stow groceries and walkers. The vehicle is the third that George Conover, left, has made available to the municipalities to transport seniors over 62 to medical appointments and shopping. With Mr. Conover is Township Mayor Winthrop Pike.

discuss the question — and others relating to the gym — at a work session this Thursday at 8 in Borough Hall.

If the gym must be used only for senior citizens, the Borough will have serious problems meeting utility costs, officials say. The seniors themselves have said they cannot pay utilities on a long-term basis.

Use of the old gym by the senior citizens organization has been talked about for some years. Delay in getting the door open is partly due to lack of an answer to the question, "Who pays?" and partly to lack of a specific agreement with the senior citizens organization. The group has had internal difficulties electing officers, and Borough officials say it has not been certain who is the spokesperson.

PASSES FORGED CHECK

Princeton Man Charged. A Princeton resident has been charged with forging a stolen check for $60 in a Nassau Street store Monday morning.

Anthony Bailey, 27, RD4, was arrested a short time later on Witherspoon Street by Ptl. Anthony Federico and charged with passing a forged check and theft by deception. Police said that the check had been stolen from a home in South Brunswick. Bailey is being held in custody in the Borough jail.

Police were alerted at 10:30 by the store which provided police with a description and name of the suspect. He was observed a short while later by the patrol officer. Chief Michael Carnevale declined to reveal the name of the store.

Trespasser Charged. Gordon W. Loff, 28, 44 Jeffers Road, Plainsboro, has been charged by Township police with trespassing. He is scheduled to appear in Township court on Tuesday.

Loff was apprehended last week by Princeton University security for trespassing in the Butler Housing Project off Harrison Street which is university-owned. Police said that Loff had been previously warned by university officials not to trespass on university property.

SENIORS AND THE GYM

Council to Discuss. That $50,000 the Borough has from Mercer County for the Borough gym — is there a tag on it that says the gym can be used only for senior citizens, or can the gym be used by a mix of groups?

Council is scheduled to

Fireworks Update

Will there be fireworks this summer in Quarry Park? Organizer David Guerzini now has a "highly probable" $925, but needs at least $1,250 more, he said this week.

In four days' work, he garnered approximately $525. He has $250 in "sure pledges," expects $150 more from the 60 canisters he has around in various stores, and hopes for another $100 from pledges that aren't so sure.

He could also use some volunteers so he won't have to do all the work. He'd like to be able to concentrate on the fireworks.

Contributions may be sent to him at 6 Spruce Lane. Make out checks to R.Q.P. Benefit Fireworks Fund.

Medical Center. Fete Day is Saturday, June 12, from 9 to 6. The contests will be held in the display windows of Epstein's in Princeton Shopping Center the week before the Fete. Contestants may guess the correct number of coins in the window and win a man's outfit. Guessing the number of pearls in the shell will win a collection of women's summer sports clothes, and the child guessing the correct number of seashells will go home with a menagerie of stuffed animals.

Pam Abernathy and Linn DuBois are chairmen of the Children's Area for this year's Fete and have assembled a full day of fun and games for children of all ages. New events will be an obstacle course for 3-6 year olds, a fishing pond and a professionally refurbished fun house. Richard Stoner will draw caricatures and there will be reprogrammed games for computer enthusiasts. T-shirts are again available at Allen's and on the field on fete day. The Fete will be held on the Princeton University fields on Washington Road and Route 1. Proceeds benefit the Medical Center at Princeton Foundation.

At University. Black and

Latino employees of Princeton University have announced formation of a new group, ABLEp, to serve as a forum and a way to make the views of black and Latino employees known to the University. The name, ABLEp, stands for Association of Black and Latino Employees of Princeton University. The group was organized by men and women from several departments of the University, and has held four meetings so far. In addition to serving as a forum and a mechanism through which views can be expressed, ABLEp will also provide advice and counsel to the University on matters in which ABLEp's members have either interest or expertise. The group also supports the goals and aims of Princeton University's Third World Center. Officers are Hector L. Delgado, chair; Penelope Baskerville, general secretary; Wardell Robinson-Moore, treasurer and Tommy Parker, in charge of special projects. ABLEp plans to have several standing committees, including building service, clerical and library, faculty, administration and professional staff, food service, maintenance, lab. and shop and security.

TO ATTEND MEETING
Of Mental Health Agencies. Paul Kurland, executive director of Family Service Agency, will attend the annual meeting of the N.J. Association of Mental Health Agencies on Wednesday, June 2, in Tinton Falls.

The central issue to be addressed at this meeting is how mental health services may be maintained in a time of increased community need and decreased government support. Donald C. Mann, vice president for Public Affairs, Prudential Insurance Company; Robert C. Corman, executive director of The Fund for New Jersey; and Harold W. Demone, Dean of the Graduate School of Social Work, Rutgers University, will present analyses of the current factors affecting the delivery of mental health services and their implications for the future.

In addition, meeting participants will examine the changing role of the private sector in planning and supporting mental health agencies.

RESOLVED: "WE WERE BEST": These two Princeton High School students, Yoram Hazony and Christopher Sanderson, shown with Principal John Sakala, won the Congressional Debate competitions at the New Jersey District Senate and New Jersey District finals held at Matawan last month. They will now join the 15-member New Jersey forensic team that will compete as the state's representative in the National Forensic League Congress in San Francisco June 13-18. They will participate in two different "houses" and will be judged against 150 others in speaking ability during debate on 40 different bills. This is the first time a Princeton high school has been represented in these finals. The PHS debate team won nearly 40 trophies during the past year. Yoram was captain; Chris will lead the team in '82-'83.

MEALS ON WHEELS

In Lawrence Township. Only a few months ago, Meals on Wheels for Lawrence Township residents was only a dream shared by Mrs. Eleanor Kinney, Mrs. Mary Tanner, and the Lawrence Township Senior Citizens Advisory Committee. Now, with help from area churches and civic organizations, it is a reality - incorporated, with a part-time, paid coordinator, and ready to roll on June 1.

Lawrence Township Meals on Wheels, Inc. will supply hot and cold meals to people who are confined to their own homes, unable to prepare their own food. It will provide a vital service to people who would not be properly nourished otherwise. Meals will be planned by a professional dietician, and special diets can be supplied.

Meals will be prepared in the kitchen of the St. Lawrence Rehabilitation Center, and will be delivered in thermal containers, five days a week, by volunteers.

Any resident of Lawrence Township who is homebound because of physical weakness, chronic illness, convalescence, or a handicap may be eligible for this program. Applicants will be visited by the project coordinator. The service costs $14 per week for one hot meal a day, five days a week, and $18 per week for a hot meal and a cold snack, five days a week.

Minimum participation is

WORKSHOP PLANNED

By Gestalt Therapist. Neil Lamper, Ph.D., Gestalt therapist, will conduct a one-day workshop on Thursday, June 10, at the Unitarian Church.

The workshop, sponsored by the Institute for Creative Choices in Plainfield, is open to therapists, counselors, human service workers, and anyone, professional or non-professional, who is interested in Gestalt theory and experiential learning. For those enrolled in the New Jersey Alcohol Counselor Certification Program (C.A.C.), the workshop carries seven credits toward certification.

Dr. Lamper is an associate professor at Western Michigan University and has been a counselor-educator for 30 years. A student of the late Dr. Fritz Perls, the founder of Gestalt therapy, he is recognized as a "Master of Gestalt." He was a Fulbright professor in India and Nepal and has led groups throughout the United States, in Canada, England, the Netherlands and Ireland. He is the author of numerous articles and is a frequent presenter of programs for the Association for Humanistic Psychology.

The Institute for Creative Choices presents a variety of workshops throughout the year, many of them carrying C.A.C. credit. It was established by Pamela Greenleaf, an alcoholism counselor in private practice and Margaret Wachterhauser, Director of Dudley House, a half-way house for men recovering from alcoholism in Plainfield, to offer special programs and workshops for the enhancement of individual creativity and the discussion of previously unseen patterns.

Enrollment in the workshop is limited and registration must be received by June 2.

Further information is available from the Institute for Creative Choices, 814 Second Place, Plainfield, 07060, (201) 755-3029 or, in the Princeton area, by calling Libby Ranney at 737-8248 (evenings).

In addition, meeting participants will examine the changing role of the private sector in planning and supporting mental health agencies.

1981 A BUSY YEAR

For Twin W. Squad. During 1981, the volunteers of the Twin W First Aid Squad of West Windsor responded to 505 first aid calls. Of these, 381 were emergencies, 53 were transportation calls and 71 were calls of various natures, such as standbys at athletic and social events or community education assignments.

In addition, they charge that it is illegal to use a public right of way like John Street, for private purposes.

Rape Suspect

Through an intense investigation, we ultimately held a police line-up where the two victims identified Hardwick as the suspect," commented Mercer County Prosecutor Philip S. Carchman.

Township Chief Frederick Porter declined to make any comments about the case, saying only that Hardwick was charged after a "lengthy and painstaking investigation."

Heading the investigation for the Township police are Lt. Norman Servis and Det. Sgt. Samuel Bianco.

Fire Department

Robert F. Mooney and William E. Rodweller (40 years); Vincent Gallagher, Bernard Glover, Robert H. Schafer and William E. Shields (35 years); Ralph Hulit Sr., Vincent N. Sassman, William B. Hussey and Arthur V. Van Horn (30 years). They will receive plaques.

Commissioner Woodbridge sees a renewed interest in the fire companies — talks by Chief Wadsworth to high-school students seem to have sparked the interest of young people in joining one of the three companies. For some years, membership was declining at an alarming rate, but Chief Wadsworth says there are now about 150 members, which is just about right.

Morale is higher, too, in Mr. Woodbridge's view. The municipalities bought new pagers, and a volunteer carrying one now hears instantly where to go, what kind of fire it is, how serious it is.

"These pagers seem to have cut down the unnecessary general alarms that were required by the lag time of the old system," Mr. Woodbridge believes, and Chief Wadsworth is very proud of response time.

He says that from the time the police hit the Electron signal to the time a fire truck rolls, is only one minute. But of course, "Assistant Chief William Rodweller lives across Chestnut from Princeton Engine Company Number One, and proximity helps.

Mayor Cawley reminds residents that their fire insurance rates depend on response time and equipment. And that brings up the whole question of equipment and its cost.

In September, Mercer Engine Company Number Three (that's the one on Chambers Street) will take possession of a new 1250 pumper. The cost of these trucks is almost beyond the imagination. Mayor Cawley remarked, with something like awe, that a pumper like this used to cost about $40,000 ten years ago. This one is $130,000.

Think Small. With those price-tags in mind and considering the changes that are coming to the Princeton community, Chief Wadsworth, Commissioner Woodbridge and the Fire Commission are beginning to think that small may be better.

"We'd like to have a mini-pumper," Chief Wadsworth explains, and they cost only about $30,000. You don't need a big truck for an automobile fire, for example. And when we get the Collins garage, we'll need a smaller vehicle that can get in there. We already have the hospital parking garage, and you need a smaller truck for places like that.

"In the Township, it's better to have a smaller truck for field fires, and here in the Borough, it would be easier to take a mini-pumper down Bank Street. That street is awfully tight for a big truck."

Mr. Woodbridge is an enthusiastic supporter of this view. Not only is a mini-pumper easier to maneuver in a small space — and cheaper — it is also easier mechanically, because it's a simpler vehicle, and it can be operated by only one or two people. He says that many small towns and rural areas have more than half their equipment in minis.

Other new equipment, less spectacular perhaps, is just as valuable as the pumper. The departments got rid of all their old breathing apparatus, and now they have new, lighter weight Scott air packs. They have new Nomex coats, made of a Dupont fibre that is lighter — and keeps the blistering heat out better — than the old canvas coats.

Looking toward training and staffing, the Borough has recently introduced an ordinance stipulating that volunteers must live no more than six miles from The Medical Center at Princeton; auxiliary members must be no farther away than 12 miles.

Yes, there are fire-fighters in town during the day, Mr. Woodbridge assures; in fact, two Princeton University undergraduates are members of Hook and Ladder on Harrison Street.

The fire commissioner is concerned about the level of training, and points to a training budget of only $1,000 a year. Part of that goes toward sending volunteers to fire-fighting schools.

"The chief has been getting the companies together for training drills," the commissioner says. "We want to upgrade training — not just by using more money, but by older volunteers training the younger ones, using our own self-help as a co-ordinated fire department. The chiefs of the last few years have begun to develop this concept."

The Borough would like also to change the parking on Chambers Street, assigning three or four spaces as emergency spaces so that volunteers will have a place to park their cars while they're off fighting a fire.

And, for future nostalgia, Commissioner Woodbridge and Chief Wadsworth would like something that seems very simple, but might cost a few hundred dollars.

"If you can believe it" the Commissioner says, "it's been 50 or 60 years since there has been a photograph of all the volunteers in all three companies. You'd need a special lens, and it would cost something — but there's a lot of interest in Princeton's fire department right now, and that's a picture I'd like to have taken."

MINIMUM BALANCE REQUIREMENTS?

$1,000 or more at commercial banks vs. $100 at Princeton Savings...

We leave the decision to you!

Comparison shopping is a time-honored tradition, and Princeton Savings thinks it's a good one. Economic times are not the best right now, and we think people should know what they're getting for their money. We also think they should get the most for their money.

Consider these questions: Can your family afford to keep up to $2,000 in its checking account to avoid service charges? Even if it can, do you really want to tie up your money like that?

Area Bank	Balance Requirements to Avoid Service Charges
#1	$1,000
#2	$2,000
#3	$1,000
#4	$1,000
#5	$2,000
#6	$1,000

Then there's:

Princeton's 5¼% Checking.

A $100 minimum balance is all it takes to earn FREE CHECKING WITH 5¼% INTEREST! If your balance falls below $100, there'll be a $4 service charge for the month.

After all, most of that money could be earning a much greater rate of return than 5% or 5¼% interest if it's invested in a 30-month savings certificate or one of Princeton's other high-yielding savings plans.

Look at the list of the minimum balance requirements on checking accounts required by some of the commercial banks in our area; we've left the names out in the interest of fair play, but the requirements are real. Take a look at it and then decide for yourself what's right for you.

It pays you to use it!

Council Is Chastised.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
On May 11, Mayor and Council met to discuss among other things rent registration. I was sorry to see that the press was not there as I do strongly feel that all things discussed by our municipal government is worthy.

I was appalled at the comments made by Mayor Robert W. Cawley and some Council members. While discussing Rent Registration Richard McGill expressed his fear that by reinstituting any form of rent control the Borough may become a "rotten core." Council moved to adopt measures that would further enable them to discuss the matter which had to be hashed and rehashed in order that Mr. McGill could understand adequately enough to place his vote, this at further cost to the community for the retention of Borough attorney, Ed Schmierer.

During the special meeting held in April to discuss the ordinance, a member of the Princeton Tenants Association expressed concern that as a foreign student it was difficult for her to find affordable and decent housing, the comment went unaddressed at that meeting. On the May 11 meeting where this very person attended out of an estimated seven people, Mayor Cawley commented during this closed meeting "That perhaps those from faraway places should find housing elsewhere."

I found the inconsiderate, tasteless, rude remarks made by some of our elected officials to be a perfect example of the smug, careless and unprofessional manner in which issues critical to our community's welfare are being handled.

I fail to see how a community can survive as such under this type of uncaring callous administration.

I find myself wondering what portion of our community is being represented by our municipal government. Is it the tenants who comprise 60 per cent of the population, is it the elderly, the taxpayer, the small business people, or is it the very small portion of our community whose abundant income is able to withstand the rapidly increasing financial demands?

I make these observations and comments not as a candidate, but as citizen who is outraged at this type of behavior that has been allowed to exist and worsen as time goes on. I implore the local press to allow those who cannot attend these closed sessions to be made aware of the decisions made on our behalf and the process of consideration taken to arrive at those decisions.

Many say that these meetings go unattended because of apathy. I know this is not so; there are many variables that make it difficult for all to attend but who are nonetheless very interested. I would like to suggest that there be more dialogue between elected officials and the press throughout the entire year, not just election time. Information on a regular basis must be made available to the community.

It is only through understanding, involvement and mutual cooperation that we can preserve those positive elements of our community and at the same time insure that we progress and develop in a way that is beneficial to all members of the community, and not just to those that would make a profit.

—PIERINA THAYER
9 Pine St.

(Editor's note: the Borough Council meetings to which Mrs. Thayer refers were not closed sessions. She is in a Democratic primary contest for a seat on Borough Council.)

Rules vs. Child Safety.
To The Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter sent to members of the Princeton Regional School Board.

For the past ten years the school bus stop for my family has been the corner of Walnut and Terhune. In September 1981, two sixteen year olds were raped on that corner.

A conversation with my nine year-old daughter revealed that of the eight children assigned to that stop, only she and another 10 year old girl waited there — sometimes together, sometimes alone.

Neither the Transportation nor the Police Department can guarantee the safety of the child or myself while walking or waiting at 7:15-7:30 a.m. Authorities everywhere are asking each citizen to exercise every precaution to avoid becoming a victim of the increasing violence. As a responsible parent I asked that the child be allowed to ride on a bus that passes her house, providing the child with the protection of her neighborhood. The Transportation Department gave regulations priority over child safety and denied the request.

I called the County Superintendent of Schools and asked if a bus change was possible. The answer was yes, provided legal space was available. The computers verified available legal space. I was told to call Dr. Houston and change would be made on the local level. At the local level regulations were again given priority over child safety and the request denied.

The Transportation Department says this situation is not unique! Do they have other bus stops where two rapes were committed this year? I suggest the Transportation Department stop protecting its regulations and start protecting its children. They chose not to solve the problem but to sweep it under a regulation.

The solution to the problem was, and is, for the bus with the legal space to stop for the two small girls as it passes Walnut and Valley, a location in their neighborhood. The Transportation Department is foolishly over-stepping its authority when it denies a child the protection of her street and over the objections of her parents, places that child in a past violent location.

When neither the Transportation or Police Department can guarantee her safety, I demand the Transportation Department stop forcing my child and myself to be a potential victim in order to receive bus service provided by tax dollars.

JUNE STEWART ROBERTS

P.S. For nine months a child has endured this situation while supposedly responsible adults played "power games."

Exfiltration a Problem Too.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have read the articles on the sewer system by Mrs. Bretnall in recent issues of Town Topics with mixed feelings: despair that the back yards along Rolling Mead, as well as those along Random Road, are defiled by sewage after a couple of inches of rain, as they have been for the past 30 years; and faint hope, now that the problem is receiving public attention. I hope that Mayor Cawley's prediction of the completion of repairs by 1985 comes to pass.

Much has been made of the cost of processing the excess water that enters the system via the avenue described by that cute alliteration, "inflow and infiltration." Nothing is said of exfiltration, yet it is converting the area into a vast leach field.

To quote D. O. North in his "Study of the Princeton Sanitary Sewer," March 1972:

Banner Missed.

The Editor, Town Topics:

To Whom It May Concern: We hope you are enjoying the lovely iris banner you took from the bay window at Gallery 100 Friday night. We enjoyed it too. But more than that, since Borough ordinance restricts us from having any more than an 8" x 9" sign it was our way of letting people know Gallery 100's new upstairs location.

So you enjoy — while we are subjected to the frustrations of fighting Borough Hall.

PAT STRAZZA
CAY MOHRMAN
Gallery 100

"Infiltration is frequently discussed; exfiltration hardly ever, then only in whispers. Yet they are inseparable bedfellows. Those parts of a leaky system which lie below the water-table leak ground water into the sewage. Those parts which lie above the water-table leak raw sewage into the groundwater—a gargantuan cesspool. Most of Princeton's 100 miles (of sewers) lie above the water-table." Mrs. Bretnall cites an example (on Dempsey Avenue) in the May 12th issue of Town Topics. Dollars are comprehensible, public health?

Watch for Splinters.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

One recent Sunday afternoon, my family brought visitors to Community Park North for a walk. There was a five-year-old boy in our group, who was naturally attracted to the wooden climbing pole which is located a few feet off the foot path next to the pond (facing north).

After a few minutes on this pole, he complained of a pain in his leg. We were upset to see in it numerous small splinters surrounded by an already inflamed area. We returned home immediately. The boy's mother and I are registered nurses, but due to the large number of splinters and his discomfort at their removal, a costly trip to a pediatrician was necessary the next day.

The weathered wood in these climbing poles may make them blend nicely with their surroundings, but it also makes them unsuitable for children to play on. Parents who might bring their children to this area should be aware of the hazard.

MAUREEN B. MARTIN

(Editor's note: The Recreation Department says it is grateful to Ms. Martin for her warning about the piece of equipment, and will take care of the problem immediately.)

More Coverage for PDS.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a graduate of Princeton Day School I am well aware of the excellence that the Girls Athletic Program has achieved over the past few years. As a reader of your paper though, I get the feeling that the only sports being played at PDS are the boys sports.

In your article about the Princeton High Girls Lacrosse

(5-12) you mention that the PDS Girls Lacrosse team had a 23 game winning streak broken. My question to your paper is, why weren't the readers aware of this before?

I hope that in the future Town Topics will cover more than just Princeton High School and the boys athletic program at PDS. I think that if you do you will not only have more happy readers, like myself, but you will have seen some of the best girls athletics in the area.

FOR ALEXANDER STREET: The future Blaine Building, in an artist's rendering. The four-story office building, whose design incorporates space for a drive-in bank, will be built at 330 Alexander Street.

Business in Princeton

The firm plans to construct on the site an office building of about 72,000 square feet. The land was bought from Best Lawrence Associates through the Princeton office of Baker Merin Associates, Inc., the office-leasing firm.

NEW BUILDING IN TOWN

On Alexander. Ground-breaking is scheduled for late this spring at 330 Alexander Street for the four-story Blaine Building, an office building of 35,580 square feet, developed by Alvin E. Gershen of Princeton. John Lloyd, of Philadelphia, is the architect.

The building is across Alexander from Springdale Golf Course and next to the 350 Alexander building occupied by Holt and Morgan and Rendall-Cook and Company.

Mr. Lloyd has designed the building for energy-efficient heating and cooling. There are two automatic elevators, a truck loading dock and parking space for 162 cars. The first floor is designed to accommodate a bank, with three drive-through lanes.

Office space is being marketed by Stephen M. Legal, Inc., Trenton. The building is scheduled for completion in December of this year.

SUSSNA MOVES

To 50 State Road. Sussna Design Office, architects and planners, will move this week from 234 Nassau to new quarters at 50 State Road. Robert Sussna announced this week. The new offices are next to The Workbench.

The new office has both formal and "trade" conference rooms, drafting room and a library of several thousand technical volumes.

The Sussna firm is completing work on plans for a $5 million renovation of post headquarters and 89 other buildings at Fort Dix as part of the Defense Department decision to keep the post active for another 20 years.

NEW LOCATION HERE

For Consulting Firm. Vanderwicken & Co., a consulting firm that specializes in assisting corporations to improve their relationships with outside constituencies, has relocated from New Hope to larger space at 20 Nassau Street.

The firm helps clients to adjust their business strategies to changes in government regulations, public opinion, the economy, technology and other external forces through a process it calls "externalysis." It also helps clients to communicate effectively with investors, employees and public officials.

Peter Vanderwicken, a Princeton alumnus, heads the four-year-old firm. He was formerly a Wall Street Journal reporter, a Time correspondent, a Citibank economist and an executive with Booz-Allen & Hamilton, a management consulting firm.

MAKES TOP LISTING

Of Design Firms. In the annual listing of the top 500 design firms in the United States published by the trade magazine, Engineering News Record, The Hillier Group was listed as the 16th largest, strictly architectural, firm in the nation. The firm was listed 215th in the total listing that includes both architectural and engineering design firms.

The listings are made in accordance with billings. The Hillier Group was ranked with firms billing between $7 and $10 million a year. Among

New Jersey firms, The Hillier Group was listed as the largest architectural firm. This is the fifth year in a row that The Hillier Group has been listed in the top 500.

The firm currently has projects throughout the northeast, in Florida, Texas, and Europe.

BOWERS IN TOP 400

In Engineering List. Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, Inc., has been listed among the top 400 contractors in the country by the magazine, "Engineering News Record," published by McGraw Hill. The firm recently received the "Contractor of the Year" award from the Association of New Jersey Subcontractors.

The top-400 listing is based on construction and design-build volume generated by Bowers Construction Company and Fulmer, Bowers and Wolfe, architects.

Current projects include 104 Carnegie Center, a 100,000-square-foot office building on Route One and Alexander; the Charlotte Newcombe Center for Princeton Theological Seminary; the Exxon Building at Forrestal Center; a laboratory-office for Merck & Co., Inc. and renovations of Kingsbury Towers in Trenton.

SERVICE PLANNED

By Disarmament Group. In conjunction with nation-wide Peace Sabbath observances this weekend, the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament will hold an interfaith service of worship for peace on Sunday at 4 p.m. in Trinity Church.

The Rev. M. William Howard Jr., immediate past president of the National Council of Churches and head of the Black Council of the Reformed Church in America, will give the sermon. His topic is "Armaments and Other Idols."

Mr. Howard is a Lawrenceville resident who will be remembered as one of three pastors who brought Christmas to the American hostages in Iran. He led a delegation from the National Council of Churches who met with top representatives of the church in the USSR in Geneva in 1979 in a Consultation on Disarmament that resulted in a joint statement signed by clergy from both countries entitled, "Choose Life." He will receive Princeton Seminary's Distinguished Alumni Award on Tuesday.

In addition to Mr. Howard, others participating in the peace service will be the Rev. John Crocker Jr., rector of Trinity Church; Dr. Edward Frost, pastor of the Unitarian Church of Princeton; the Rev. Cynthia Jarvis, associate pastor of Nassau Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Robert Moore, coordinator of the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, and the Rev. Mark Pickett, co-pastor, Christ Congregation.

Child care will be available for pre-school children. Members of the community are invited.

William M. Howard, Jr.

APPOINTMENT SET

To Theological Center. Dr. James I. McCord, chairman of the board of the Center of Theological Inquiry, has announced the appointment of Dr. Roland M. Frye to the Center as research professor for the first semester of the 1982-83 academic year. Prior to that appointment he served on the faculties of Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham, Alabama, and Emory University, and as research professor of the Folger Shakespeare Library from 1961-1965.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Jewish Center will hold Shavuot services this Thursday evenings at 7:30, conducted by Rabbi Melvin J. Glatt and the confirmation students who have completed the continuing education

Shavuot is a special festival which commemorates the giving of the law to Moses at Mount Sinai and its acceptance by the people. It is thus an appropriate time to honor the 14 confirmands who have completed two years of study after Bar and Bat Mitzvah. The service will be followed by a reception for which the parents of the confirmands will be the hosts.

The Rev. Donald Mcleod, professor of preaching and worship at Princeton Theological Seminary since 1947, will be the guest preacher this Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service at Princeton University Chapel.

Dr. Mcleod is a member of the advisory council of the Chapel and the author of seven books. He will deliver a Memorial Day sermon entitled "Heritage."

BUG-OF-THE-WEEK

By J. Drew Foster,
Entomologist
PINE TIP MOTHS

The tip moth is another pest whose damage takes you by surprise, after the proper time for effectively applying control measures.

Two- and three-needle pines in landscape and tree farm situations are susceptible to the Nantucket pine tip moth and the European pine shoot moth. The adult moths lay eggs on new shoots at the bases of needles. Caterpillars hatch from the eggs, and then burrow into and feed within the new stems, eventually killing them. The caterpillars then transform into moths, mate, and renew the cycle.

The European pine tip moth has one generation per year, and the Nantucket pine tip moth can have two or three.

Chemical control measures are appropriate now, using a good systemic insecticide labeled for tip moth control. Where sprays are not desired, or where damage is observed too late, prune out and destroy infested shoots. Be sure you remove enough of the shoot to take the caterpillar, too. Check for a small cream-colored caterpillar within the stem you remove.

Give us a call for all of your landscape pest control needs.

ALL ABOUT TREES
EXCITEMENT UNDERFOOT
with Sam De Turo
Woodwinds Associates
Almost every property includes areas where grass and flowers simply won't grow. Instead of living with these unsightly bare patches of dirt, why not use ground cover? These plants add year round beauty and texture to your landscape. Ground covers are exactly what their name implies — plants that cover the ground. They range in size from tiny 1" pebbly baby's tears to three foot tall creeping juniper. They can be evergreen or deciduous, shrubs or vines. They are very versatile plants. Pick any type of a soil at any location and you're sure to find a ground cover that's perfectly suited to it.
You can plant ground cover anywhere — on steep banks, where mowing is impossible, under trees where grass is difficult to maintain, in rock gardens — possibly with mosses and woody ferns.
Combine different ground covers for various creative effects. The shining green leaves of ivy can be planted to contrast with the bluish gray mat of creeping juniper, or a flaming display of daffodils can be set off in a bed of ivy.
Once the ground cover is established, it requires only about half the care you lavish on your lawn. Check the soil frequently in summer, and during dry spells, water frequently and deeply with a sprinkler. If insects become a problem, consider spraying. Fertilization is also recommended to insure the growth of a full, lush bed.

* OUR PROMISE TO PRINCETON CONSUMERS:
IF YOU HAVE A COMPLAINT against any local business firm just call 924-8223 and a Consumer Bureau representative will investigate and mediate. Then if you are not satisfied and...
IF CONSUMER BUREAU'S ALL-CONSUMER PANEL AGREES that your complaint is valid, the business firm involved has only two choices: either satisfy your complaint promptly or lose its Consumer Bureau Registration.
YOU CAN CHECK by phone any time you wish whether any local business firm you name is Consumer Bureau Registered.
Not all reliable local firms are Registered, but for every Registered firm we have been obliged to take off our Register ten times that number of UnRegistered firms have failed to meet our standards of reliability.

Parents from Nine Area Schools Forming Organization In Effort to Cope Better with Problems of Adolescence

Adolescence — a time of life even rougher on parents than it is on the kids, and that's saying a lot.

Several parents who "want to learn more about adolescence, to see what we can all do to help each other," have formed a new group called The Greater Princeton Area Parents Council.

You may remember other groups of "concerned" — i.e., anxious and sometimes scared to death — parents. This one is different. It is, in fact, unique.

It is unique because it is comprised of parents representing nine schools — public and private. These parents realized that their children shrug off school ties when it comes to making friends. They know that their own kids in Princeton Day School or Princeton High, have friends in both schools. Go to a party and check out who's been invited: kids from Chapin and John Witherspoon Middle School; kids from Lawrenceville and PDS; from Peddie and Pennington.

"We wanted to open lines of communication among parents of children in these schools," explains Polly Miller.

She had learned about a similar organization in Washington, D.C., and began to form the Princeton group last year. In October, key people in the Washington organization spoke to a gathering of Princeton parents at the Hun School and explained how it had worked for them.

"All schools are really trying to do the same thing," Mrs. Miller says, "to reach parents, and involve them in these adolescent years, to learn as much as possible about adolescence, and see what we can all do to help each other."

"There have been changes since those of us with adolescent children were that age. The kids have to make choices at an earlier age, and they have more decisions to make than we had. When we were young, we had a stronger family system, our behavior was monitored more closely.

- "I often think we don't always understand just what kids are going through today."
- Schools initially belonging to the Council, and the school representatives, are:
- Chapin School (Carol Satz and Fran Posnock)
  - Hun School (Barbara Wahlers)
  - John Witherspoon Middle School (Tom Robinson and Betty Klingebiel)
  - The Lawrenceville School (Marian Heher and Sally Maruca)
  - Peddie School (Peter Sweetland)
  - Princeton Day School (Mary Murdoch)
  - Princeton High School (Eileen Bailey)
  - The Pennington School (Peggy Foley)
  - Stuart Country Day School (Nancy Doyle)

"If a school isn't there, it's not because we are exclusive — we certainly aren't," Mrs. Miller emphasizes.

"But the Washington group advised us not to be too big at first. We began with schools whose parents groups were already meeting about adolescents. Anybody from another school is welcome to come and listen. Our next meeting will be June 8, but we haven't yet decided where. We want to meet at different schools, and if you're interested, you should call me at 921-8139."

The way planning is going now, the Council will start next fall by presenting speakers within a theme. The theme will be "Stress," and Mrs. Miller acknowledges with a smile the broad and general nature of that subject.

But many a problem is related to that broad and general theme: academic pressure, the job pressures father and mother themselves are under, use of alcohol or other drugs, what parents expect their children to achieve.

The Council will call in a variety of speakers, and will ask them for help in developing programs.

"The Washington people told us we'd attract good speakers because of the variety of schools belonging to the Council. It means a speaker has a chance to address a diverse group," Mrs. Miller reports.

"Also, the existence of the Council means we can share both speakers and programs. You see, all these schools have been trying to do the same thing! There has been a desperate need to get everybody together."

It is especially important, representatives say, to make it clear that the new Council is a support group, organized to help parents, not to pressure them.

A current buzz-word, "parenting," is not regarded highly by many parents, Mrs. Miller discovered, somewhat to her surprise. To many mothers and fathers, it means that somebody is trying to tell them how to bring up their kids, but that's not the idea behind the Council at all.

"It's an exchange of ideas, a way for parents from different schools to get together. Perhaps each parents group can discover ways to do things better."

There are all kinds of ways parents and schools can share, Mrs. Miller believes. She cites, as an example, PDS' Mini-Science Series, open to children from other schools. Young scientists will visit the Franklin Institute, the Philadelphia Zoo, the Academy of Natural Sciences in Philadelphia, and so on.

"It's an example of the kind of thing a school could do," she points out, "and encourage students from other schools to attend."

They can also share philosophies of education, since there are representatives not only from public and private schools, but from private schools who are different from each other in the way they view children and education.

Also, many Princeton parents have a child in public school and a child in a private school, or perhaps children in different private schools. The opportunities for cross-fertilization are infinite.

In the beginning — and it was just about a year ago — Mrs. Miller, Mary Murdoch and Carolyn Edelman visited the heads of all these schools, the principals and headmasters, and outlined their ideas. Only then, did they bring parents and heads of schools together.

Mrs. Miller herself has been on the Values Committee of the Parents Association of PDS.

As always, of course, there will be the need for money. Right now, the Council is doing the legal work required for tax-exempt status. The first week in October, there will be a fund-raising Sports Sale.

Officers have been elected to move things forward. Mrs. Miller is chairman of the board of trustees; Barbara Wahlers is treasurer and Tom Robinson, secretary. Vice-chairman and corresponding secretary are still to be elected.

The aim is to rotate these duties among the nine charter member schools, and to visit one another's schools for meetings and to hear talks by speakers.

"We want to identify what we can offer to all schools and all children," Mrs. Miller says, "and find out what each parent group can do better."

SHOW GOES ON ROAD

To Area Institutions. A group of students at Stuart Country Day School has taken the school production, "Curtain Call," on the road to entertain the handicapped. The cabaret of song and dance was first produced and directed by senior Lynn Duffy and drama teacher Susan Tapper. It was performed at Stuart earlier in the year.

Now, under the auspices of Stuart's Community Service Program, six girls are presenting an abridged version of the show to audiences in the area. To date, they have performed at Merwick, Princeton Nursing Home, the St. Lawrence Rehabilitation Center and Holly House, a boarding home in Hightstown run by the Association for the Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped.

Members of Stuart's theatrical troupe are Lynn Duffy, Gilly Hargrave, Jeanne Lynch, Catherine Norton, Jennifer Rebman and Emilie White. Mrs. Eileen Rebman is director of Stuart's Community Service Program.

HERE'S THE PROGRAM

For Street Theatre. A comedy, a mystery, a play for kids — what more can you ask of summer theatre? And when school is out for the summer, what better way to have fun than to be an actor, tech. crew or producer?

Princeton Street Theatre, Inc., Princeton's theatre for youth, has announced its program for the summer. The comedy will be "Pfeiffer's People," the mystery will be Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians" and the production for kids will be "The Hobbit and Company."

Teens or pre-teens (or post-teens) are invited to write PST, Inc., c/o PCV, Bunn Drive, Princeton. Include your address, telephone number, and what you'd like to do in the theatre.

"...UPON A MATTRESS"

A Princess. Once there was this princess ... but you know already. To refresh your memory, "Once Upon a Mattress," the musical based on the fable of the princess and the pea, will be presented on three successive weekends at Artists Showcase Theatre, Trenton.

In "South Pacific," a young Navy nurse named Nellie Forbush from Little Rock, is stationed during World War II on a south sea island where she meets the handsome, middle-aged French planter, Emile de Becque. Remember "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outta My Hair"? "Some Enchanted Evening"? You got it.

dinner-theatres in the Philadelphia area. Michelle Hannay has performed at McCarter Theatre, the Theatre-By-The-Lake and the New Jersey Theatre.

MUSIC

In Princeton

SPRING SING
By PHS Choral Groups. Five choirs and their 250 students will join in the annual Princeton High School Choral Groups Spring Concert this Wednesday at 8 in the school auditorium. The choirs are under the direction of William Trego and Nancianne Parrella.

The Freshman Women's Chorus will open the program with two madrigals from the 17th century: "When First I Saw Thee" by Porter, and "My Lady, Thou Art So Fair," by Weekes. They will also sing three songs by Jean Berger.

The Men's Choir will then sing three glees and one spiritual, arranged by Bartholomew and Vaughan Williams. The two groups will combine to sing Vaughan Williams' "Sweet Day" and Mozart's "Regina Coeli."

From the Cantata Number Four of Johann Sebastian Bach, the High School Women's Chorus will sing "Den Tod," followed by "If the Green" from Persichetti's Spring Cantata. The group will also sing Barber's "Heaven-Haven" and two mountain ballads arranged by Ron Nelson.

The PHS Choir will sing excerpts from the Mozart Requiem, "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel" and "The Succession of the Four Sweet Months," by Benjamin Britten. For the finale, all choirs will join to sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

It has been a tradition of spring concerts to feature winners, from the high school, of the Anna B. Stokes Music Competition. This year, the performer will be Leti Volpp, a PHS senior, who won second place in the piano competition.

BALLADS AND BACH
Organ Concert Plus. Nathan A. Randall, principal university organist at Princeton will present an organ recital entitled "Ballads, Battles and Bach" Sunday, June 6, at 7 in the University Chapel. Assisting artists will be Martha Pansey, soprano, and Dennis Slavin, trumpet.

The program will open with the Toccata and Fugue in D Minor of Johann Sebastian Bach and continue with two 16th century Spanish "Batallas." These works are examples of a type of popular organ music intended to portray the passions of battle and to celebrate Spanish military victories. The first half of the program will conclude with the Second Sonata for Trumpet and Organ by Viviani.

The remainder of the concert will be devoted to American music. Miss Pansey will sing "Seven Songs Dedicated to General George Washington" by the Philadelphia composer Francis Hopkinson, a friend of Jefferson and Franklin and signer of the Declaration of Independence. The Washington theme will be continued with a performance of James Hewitt's "The Battle of Trenton," an American counterpart to the Spanish battle pieces. Oliver Shaw's "Trip to Pawtucket" and Scott Joplin's "Ragtime Dance" will conclude the program.

Mr. Randall is a Ph. D. candidate in music history and engaged in a study of 17th century French organ music. Mr. Slavin is also a Ph.D. candidate at the University and has appeared here in many performances of Musica Alta and, most recently, Bach's B Minor Mass. Miss Pansey is a graduating senior and will be remembered for her portrayal of Marcellina in the Princeton University Opera Theatre production of "Fidelio" this spring. The public is invited.

LANDSCAPING HELP

At Peterson's Nursery. As the planning and the expense of outdoor landscaping becomes the focal point for most home owners this month, it would be wise to stop in at Peterson's Nursery where one will receive help and advice on both accounts. Not only will one find an enormous inventory of wonderful trees, shrubs, flowering plants, annuals, perennials, herbs and decorative indoor plants — but a half-price sale which will save a lot of money.

This spectacular sales offer, which includes all outdoor shrubs and plants except roses (which are well priced in any case); many indoor plants, and all hanging baskets, will actually double the quantity of one's purchases.

Quality and an extensive selection earmarks Peterson's Nursery which has been steadily growing under the tireless management of its owner Charles Peterson since 1939. This year several changes have been made which will make the eight acre nursery still more attractive and easier to shop in, which is the reason why Peterson's lucky customers are taking advantage of the sale this month.

"My inventory is so vast, and our variety is so extensive that I am continuing this running sale until the end of May to clear out some of our plants in order to redo the nursery," explains Mr. Peterson who is in the process of creating a natural meandering garden where one will be able to select the finest trees and flowering bushes in their natural setting. Located just behind the greenhouse which will also undergo a renovation this year, there will be a path through luscious stark fruit trees, past the roses, and into a forest of evergreen.

Many of Peterson's fruit trees are already bearing sweet fruit. The trees include: plum, apple, peach, pear, cherry and apricot. Rose bushes beginning at $7.50 are available in all their glory such as the floribundas, hybrid tea, and the miniature variety.

The smaller outdoor plants are displayed differently this year, according to the owner who says that he tired of the large beds and has now arranged the more than 300 varieties of perennials alphabetically in smaller beds to make selection easier. One member of Peterson's large staff, Polly Cote, works exclusively with the perennials and is always on hand to assist customers in planning their gardens. The four-inch potted perennials are only $1.50, a most competitive price. Forty to fifty varieties of perennial wild flowers are on view.

LOOK FOR BARGAINS at Peterson's Nursery this month where many outdoor and indoor plants and shrubs are on sale at half-price. One half a barrel or two for $20 are also good buys. Polly Cote seen here at one of the many perennial beds at the nursery is on hand to give expert advice.

"I would challenge anyone to beat our prices," says Mr. Peterson whose retail business includes a large landscaping company. He remarks that his collection of ferns which range from $1 to $300 is "the largest available variety in the eastern part of the United States," all labeled with their botanical names. These lovely plants which are so numerous will be moved into one whole section of the greenhouse later this year. It will be a "fern glen paradise." Nearby 150 varieties of herbs can be seen. Cooks and collectors of potpourri will be delighted to know that the choice is enormous including herbs such as lemon crispium, apple geraniums, peppermint geraniums, various mints, and all types of English thyme.

There is still a fine selection of summertime bedding plants. Annuals such as: all types of wax begonias which could be kept going all winter inside; vivid purple impatiens and those of other bright colors; the hardy marigolds in oranges and yellow and mixtures of the two; soft blue ageratum and snapdragons which will be pretty for flower arrangements all summer are well-priced, just to mention a few. Pink, coral, red and white geraniums are sold for $2.50.

Don't worry about redecorating your porch or terrace this year. Let the hanging plants do it instead and then bring them inside to enjoy during the dreary winter months. Among the most lovely baskets now on sale at half the normal price are graceful fuchsias and yellow begonias. Orangy, white and pink begonias are also available. One will even be able to eat parts of Peterson's hanging basket plants. Cherry tomato plants look attractive and are delicious to eat with summer lettuces. Many of the shop's strawberry plant baskets are already bearing their sweet fruit.

Decorative fragrant plants, such as night blooming jasmine and orchids at half price, are good buys this month. For business offices or larger homes there are a number of impressive jumbo hanging plants on sale too. A huge Kalanchoe and several super jumbo spider plants will grace most any large space.

Peterson's sells plants which are well cared-for, according to its owner, who makes sure that each and every plant is fertilized a little each day. Liquid seaweed rich in vitamins and minerals with 59 trace elements will insure a healthy purchase. He is experimenting with ultrasound for insect control.

A full-fledged landscaping company office adjoins Peterson's cut flower market which will produce floral arrangements for all occasions. The shop is busy with weddings this month. Peterson personally supervises his landscape jobs which take him all over New Jersey. Hard work and long hours are involved but he insists it is worthwhile spending long hours at his profession which he enjoys so much. Until the end of the May sale, shop hours will be daily from 9 to 8 and on Saturdays until 6 and Sundays until 5. From June on the nursery will be open from 9 to 6 daily and on weekends until 5. The nursery is located on Route 206 between Princeton and Lawrenceville.

It's New to Us

starbursts, lollipops or gummi bears, to her more sophisticated regulars whose chocolate standards are most discerning.

There are many closet "chocoholics" among us who stash their favorite chocolates in a special secret hiding place, so a wide selection is important.

CANDIES FROM POLLY'S: Mrs. Dorothy Marsh, owner of Polly's Fine Candies in Palmer Square, views her large assortment of the ever-popular jelly bellies which come in many natural fruit flavors. Delicious selected chocolates from Polly's and those of Godiva will make thoughtful gifts this season.

"If we are going to blow our endless diets we might as well blow them on good candy from Polly's so it will be worth it!" remarked one customer there recently.

Polly's own chocolates are delicious. A quick stop there will yield a good assortment of creams, chocolate covered nuts, caramels and perhaps fudge. Of course, if one has time to wait a bit longer, it is always a good idea to make a personal selection for each gift box of one to five pounds. Gift boxes are beautifully wrapped but there are also a number of handsome gift containers to store the treats. A crystal egg, pretty hand-painted ceramic boxes of all sizes, containers for candies with a baby boy or girl, all make wonderful gift ideas. These containers full of chocolates and other sweets do not necessarily have to be expensive. They begin at $2.

There are small delicious sweets for every occasion at Polly's. Its attractive owner, who is also a surgical nurse, has spent many hours choosing selected imported sweets as well as amusing ones. It is fun to browse around the cheerful shop located at 63 Palmer Square West. Unique items, such as a tiny champagne bottle in a silver cooler, or a chocolate cigar saying "It's a boy" - or a girl - or firecrackers which say "I get a bang out of you" can all be found at Polly's. Tourists and Princeton area residents all flock there at certain hours during the week. After school is one of the busiest times at the shop. One will see a fleet of bicycles parked in front of the windows which are so creatively arranged.

"Children of all ages are welcome here. They won't be pushed out in a hurry," says one of Mrs. Marsh's assistants. What is more precious savings on the longed-for treat?

Sweet jelly bellies with their sweet natural flavor of fruit are the current rage at Polly's. There are large cannisters of the tiny candies to be sold by the pound or already wrapped in small bags for a quick sale.

It is almost as if you step back in time when you enter this candy shop. Large barrels of what used to be penny candy remind one of days gone by. Chewy salt water taffy has just arrived for the summer season.

It is always the season for chocolate. Fresh fudge is one of Polly's specialties. Surely vanilla, maple, peanut butter or fudge will tempt the shopper or make a good gift.

In addition to Polly's own candy, the shop sells a good amount of the famous Godiva candy. Packaged in handsome gold boxes from the tiniest to a few pieces, to the larger five-selection, these delightful sweets will make the perfect gift. Many a young man is seen at Polly's buying a small box of Godiva chocolates and then scurrying off with his treasure to meet his favorite girl. Your favorite man will enjoy looking at and eating the Godiva golf balls or chocolates with crossed tennis racquets this Father's Day.

What better way to end a well planned dinner party than with a silver bowl filled with chocolate cordials of apricot brandy, rum, coffee bean, rum raisin or chocolate orange peel to mention a few?

Why not try a Latin American tradition which makes any party festive in those countries. Polly's is the only place around here which sells the whimsical paper pinatas which can be filled with candies then broken by blind-folded strikers. Whatever the occasion there is something for everyone at Polly's.

—Susan Trowbridge

LONDON OBSERVED: Prints, maps and satirical cartoons create a portrait of over 500 years of life in London in the exhibition at the Rare Books Gallery and the Graphic Arts Collection at Firestone Library.

ART In Princeton

LONDON IN PRINTS
At Firestone Exhibition.
Among the cities of Europe, London stands apart for the number and the continuity of its portrayal in prints. The invention of every new technique in the history of the graphic arts, from engraving to photography seems to have generated another wave of enthusiasm for London as a subject.

Centuries before most of it was destroyed by the great fire of 1666, artists were busily at work recording steeples and towers, the river Thames and the walls that once surrounded the city. And, when a new London rose, like the phoenix from its ashes, artists continued to record, portray and interpret the urban prospect.

The exhibition, London Observed, on display at the Rare Books Gallery and the Gallery of the Graphic Arts Collection at Firestone Library makes clear the close historical relationship between the artists and the city. It begins with the first anonymous woodcuts made in the 15th century and continues through the centuries ending with the more familiar and highly sophisticated photographs and books of recent years.

Beginning with the earliest image, a medieval walled city that was printed in 1497, the collection illustrates centuries of London life, creating an historical portrait composed of maps, political cartoons, periodicals and even children's books. London Observed is a record of taste and manners, architecture and urban change.

Graphic Design Progress. It is also a display of the variety of style, technique and form to be found in over 500 years of graphic design. The show not only charts the life of a city, but illustrates the artistic progress that was a result of the development of the copper plate, the lithograph and the many highly sophisticated painting techniques that changed art and publishing in the 18th and 19th centuries.

London Observed presents a carefully blended pot-pourri of books and prints. In many of them grace and beauty that that characterizes one of the world's most attractive and interesting cities determines the affect. In other works the artist's point of view is much in the forefront. Often, this takes the form of commentary about the people who ruled the city, ran its businesses and who sometime lived and suffered in the streets. These works take many forms.

Some are books like those of Rowlandson and Cruikshank who managed to entertain at the same time that they made often savage commentary about the mores of their society. Others capture London life in finely wrought streetscapes, and, in the later works, in photographs.

Looking at this display is a demanding, albeit pleasurable experience. Although the hundreds of prints are united by a common theme and a good many of them further linked because of being 19th century art, the diversity of subject and complexity of secondary themes combined with the variety of styles make the collection one that requires careful consideration and a good deal of thought. The many different subjects and the intricate and elaborate craftsmanship that characterizes much of the work offers a tremendous range of pleasures to the careful viewer.

Entertaining, Too. The display is often as entertaining as it is demanding. During the 19th century a cartoon like style widely used for social satire and for book illustration in general. Single sheet popular prints and art from journals and books amusingly recorded social foibles, human misdeeds and the countless opportunities for seemingly absurd that are a part of the higher levels of civilization.

No aspect of life was safe from the colorful, whimsical and often biting portrayals. Rich and poor, famous and unknown, can all be seen here captured at work and at play by the artist's pen.

The same colorful style was often used to portray people without comment and for other forms of illustration as well. Also included are representations of furniture and other decorative arts in the same manner.

When the exhibition is not dealing with the manners and taste of London society it takes the viewer on a tour of the city streets over the years. Twentieth century views of St. Pauls are combined with 18th and 19th century glimpses of the Strand, Regents Park, and wood-workers are Mansion House and London Bridge in its various incarnations and views of London before the fire. A more fanciful view of the city is captured in several children's book illustrations that include Rackham's charming rendition of Kew Gardens for Peter Pan and Christopher Robin's view of Buckingham Palace.

During the 18th and 19th century interest in plants and botany in general came close to being a craze throughout Europe. Scientific discoveries and increased travel brought new varieties of plants and flowers to the public's attention. In the age of enlightenment the appetite for information about this subject and for the possession of rare plants was insatiable. One forlorn collector was said to have taken his life when he was unable to acquire a much desired tulip bulb.

As a result of this public's intense concern, many books on plants were published at this time. Unlike today's more utilitarian volumes, these were hand printed and lavishly illustrated, usually with copperplate engravings that were elegantly hand colored. Several examples of botanical plates from the major volumes of the period are on display at the Eye for Art.

French, English and Austrian prints, rendered by artist-scientists illustrate their subjects with fine line. There is frequently an immense amount of detail that appears as rich and complex as a jeweler's filigree. Roots and leaves and sinuous petals are formed from networks of eloquent lines. Color, too is rich in the carefully detailed works.

At the Nassau Gallery, Virginia Parrott's photographs remind us that a sensitive photographer can use color much in the way that an artist uses paint. The series of urban scenes with an architectural point of view, capture light and color in a manner that makes us aware of the tonal subtleties that surround us.

Parrott finds harmonies and meaning in the ordinary. Views of abandoned doorways, tavern entrances, laundry lines and other often taken-for-granted subjects not only capture the poignancy of the moment but also capture the color nuance, patterns and textures and wonderful spatial relationships that often go unnoticed.

At Storm King Center. The 200 acres of landscaped gardens and rolling fields of the Storm King Art Center are the background for works of contemporary sculpture acquired by the Center over the past 20 years.

The Princeton Art Association is sponsoring a tour to the Center on Sunday, June 13, and has suggested that the trip would be particularly appropriate for students 14 years of age and older. There are over 160 pieces in the permanent collection, 90 of which are exhibited in the outdoor setting.

The collection also includes 13 works by the late David Smith, Noguchi's "Momo Taro" and sculptures by Nelvelson, Witkin, Calder, Caro, Liberman, di Suvero and others, and a major retrospective of Barbara Hepworth's work will open on the day of the PAA tour. Indoor galleries also have paintings, graphics and smaller sculptures.

The tour will leave the Acme area of the Princeton Shopping Center at 10 a.m., arriving around 1 at New Wonder Cantonment for a bring-your-own picnic lunch. The bus is scheduled to arrive at Storm King around 2:30, for a guided tour by sculptor John Carbone. The return trip will start at 5, arriving in Princeton between 7:30 and 8.

The fee is $16 to those who are not members of the PAA and $14 to members. Reservations may be made by calling 921-9173.

AT FLEMINGTON

Brighter Future Forecast for Princeton Baseball Team

The Princeton baseball team pulled off no surprises this spring under new coach Tom O'Connell, finishing 12-17 overall, and 7-9 in EBL play. Given the situation O'Connell inherited upon arrival here, it was a respectable showing. But give him a year, and the Tigers may begin to prove themselves. Don't look for a title contender, but a much more solid team, capable of knocking off some of the better competition.

Graduation losses will be light this June; the team will lose pitchers Bob Holly, Mike Judy and Chris Brennand. Holly left his arm in Palmer Stadium last fall, and had a disappointing season, with a 2-4 record and a 6.45 ERA. Judy finished 2-3, and Brennand did not register a decision.

The two best pitchers this spring will return. Steve Kordish compiled a 3-3 mark with an ERA of 2.85. He was second among all pitchers in EBL competition. Freshman Bill Beard was a perfect 4-0, allowing just seven runs in 34 innings.

When he wasn't on the mound, Kordish was playing first base and proving effective at the plate as well. He batted .303, with six doubles, two triples and a home run. He will co-captain the '83 Tiger squad with third baseman Paul Steinhauser.

Steinhauser led the team in batting with a .370 mark, and also with runs batted in, 24. He had six doubles, two triples and two homers among his 34 hits.

For his efforts, Steinhauser received the Frederick W. Kafer trophy; Kordish won both the William J. Clarke trophy and the Edward J. Donovan award. Beard took away the Leroy Kellogg trophy for freshmen.

Another pitcher, sophomore Ed Aulisi received the George Bauhan trophy given annually to the most improved sophomore. Aulisi had a record of 1-5 and an ERA of 6.45.

Two others who batted over .300 will be also return. Tom Magno took over the shortstop position as a freshman, and had a fine year, ending with an average of .351. Designated hitter Craig Best hit .303.

Tom Teeple and catcher Jerry Rhodts just missed the .300 plateau, finishing at .296 and .298 respectively. Further down were Tom Kates at .268, centerfielder Ray Tuohey, .244 Kyle Heffley, .241 and Craig Peters, .240. After a fine year at the plate last spring, rightfielder Neil Cable slumped to .089.

That gives O'Connell plenty to start with next spring, and if Mother Nature doesn't dump six inches of snow on his playing field in April, his second season has got to be easier.

eight season for O'Neill was seven wins, 13 losses.

PHS thus finished with back-to-back Colonial Valley Conference league wins, having upset McCorristin earlier in the week in a game in which Scott Porreca was the pitching hero. A second game with west Windsor, scheduled the next day after Princeton's 14-6 win, was cancelled.

"They had played five games in five days and begged off," said O'Neill. "We've been in that situation ourselves and since it didn't make any difference in the league standings we didn't want to push it."

"Amazing." "An amazing inning, really," said O'Neill of the uprising against the Pirates. "Everybody in the lineup scored one run and two guys scored twice." Its pitching staff drained. West Windsor just didn't have it against Princeton. "They walked a slew of guys," said O'Neill.

It began with walks to Ralph Carnevale and leadoff batter Scott Porreca. Josh Miller's sacrifice bunt went for a single. The Pirates didn't have a play but overthrew first anyway. Carnevale scoring the first run. Clark Lippincott then singled in the second run.

Mickey Carnevale got on when WW tried to turn his grounder into a double play and didn't get anyone out. Three more walks sent home the third, fourth and fifth runs and Terry Phox's single plated the seventh.

Ralph Carnevale, up for the second time, had an infield hit and Porreca and Josh Miller singled. Still no outs and nine runs had come home. After a flyout, Lippincott's fly ball sent in the tenth run. Frank Shingle doubled home the final run before Doug Thompson flied right to end it.

Porreca Ends 3-3. Porreca got the win to end with three wins, three losses and a save. Porreca had come in relief of Kevin Phox in the McCorristin game earlier in the week in the fifth with one out and the bases loaded and a 3-0 count on Ralph Chiarello, who had belted a grand slam to lift McCorristin past PHS in their first meeting. He struck out Chiarello and the next batter on a 3-2 pitch to put out the fire.

"He was the hero. He doesn't get all the recognition he deserves," said O'Neill.

Lippincott led the team in batting with a .333 mark, followed by Porreca with .329, Josh Miller .328 (in terms of batting, Miller improved tremendously over the year, O'Neill stated).

Sophomore Mickey Carnevale ended with a .321 average and the prediction by O'Neill that he is going to be a good hitter. "He has one of the nicest swings on the team. He hits the ball hard." Frank Shingle, the shortstop, batted .316. The team batting average was .275.

Although it won only seven of 20, PHS was outscored by just three runs - 124 to 122.

THE BEST FOR LAST

PHS Nine Finishes Well. It's all over for the 1982 Princeton High School baseball team and possibly permanently for coach Jim O'Neill, who has been granted a year's leave of absence by the school board.

The Little Tigers saved their best for the last. Trailing West Windsor 6-3, they erupted for 11 runs in the fifth inning — their biggest inning of the season — to go out a 14-6 winner. The final tally in this

One of the most dramatic changes in baseball in recent years is the almost unbelievable increase in stolen bases ... Do you realize that in 1950, for example, NOBODY in the American League stole more than 15 bases all year ... By contrast, in 1981, one player, Tim Lincecum, stole 71 bases a shortened season ... Overall, there are about 5 TIMES more stolen bases today than there were in the 1950's ... In those days, the major leagues averaged about 600 total stolen bases for the year ... In the last few seasons, there's been an average of about 3,200 stolen bases a year

Did you know that the famous movie colony of Hollywood might have an entirely different name, if it weren't for a sports event! ... Here's the story ... A man went to a horse race one day long ago, and bet heavily on one horse ... That horse came in, and paid off big ... The man took his winnings and bought real estate in what is now Hollywood, California ... The horse who won that race was named "Hollywood," and, the man named his real estate holdings after the horse ... But just think, if some other horse had won that day, the world famous movie community of Hollywood probably would never have been named Hollywood.

FITNESS CENTER

Welcomel
Over the last dozen years, there has been steady improvement in the shock-absorbing capacity, fit and comfort of running shoes. Improvements have been made in other sport shoes as well.

Nevertheless, there continues to be a high incidence of seemingly needless injury — sprained ankles, achilles tendonitis, heel spur syndrome, shin splints and so on. Many individuals repeatedly incur such injuries for the simple reason that their footwear is not engineered to meet their needs. The engineering that is needed can sometimes be supplied by a podiatrist in the form of orthotics; often, however, there are problems despite orthotics and orthotics can create problems.

Manufacturers of running shoes are now beginning to consider the problem of injury prevention from a comprehensive mechanical point of view. However, the manufacturer is not willing to manufacture specific shoes for each specific person. Instead, manufacturers will continue to make broad compromises. Hence, it will always be the case that many runners will require individual adjustment to their shoes.

I am the inventor of several athletic shoe constructions designed to prevent excessive mechanical stresses, and I have a patent issuing this month. In addition, I am experienced in simple shoe adjustments which do not involve special constructions.

Besides aiding in injury prevention, the modifications I employ prevent premature shoe breakdown and may improve efficiency of gait. They have been tested on runners as well as on athletes of lesser caliber. A display board and a prototype are on view at Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center.

For runners, basketball players, soccer or tennis players in need of stabilizing constructions or individualized adjustments to prevent ankle sprain, achilles tendonitis and other injuries, my services are available at Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center. It Took 106 Years, But Track Team Finally Wins Its Second IC4A Title

If Princeton track coach Larry Ellis and field coach Fred Samara could have asked for just one more thing Sunday, it might have been to have their athletes competing before a large, cheering throng of spectators in Palmer Stadium.

As it was, partly because of the terrible weather, and partly because track is not big time around here, one of the most significant victories in Princeton sports was achieved before a crowd of no more than 200 people. The Tigers captured the IC4A championship for the first time in 106 years; they last won the first year the event was held in 1876.

Putting together points in nine of the 21 events, the Orange and Black totalled 62 at day's end, ahead of second-place Seton Hall, which finished with 58. Maryland, the defending champion finished with 49, Villanova 43, Penn State, 40, Rutgers 39 and Penn 35.

Augie Wolf was the only gold medal winner for the Tigers capturing the shot put on Saturday by a scant centimeter in a sub-par performance. He pulled down another on Sunday in the discus, breaking the old IC4A mark by three feet.

Every point was valuable to Princeton, which had to go without two of its more valuable performers, Rob Quinn in the steeplechase and Jack Fonss in the 1,500. Both were sure bets to pick up some points, but both were laid up in the infirmary.

But Brad Urschel managed to leave sick bay long enough to pick up a fifth and two points in the decathlon; Mike Gray, who had been injured all spring, wound up with a third in the triple jump, good for six points; and Mark Rifkin, bothered by a groin pull, took third in the discus by three inches. Tom Meyer captured a second place in the javelin with a toss of 225-11, to give the Tigers 4 of their points in the field events, exactly what Samara had felt they could achieve.

The other 18 came on the track, eight of them in a superlative effort by Peter Arduino in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. A hamstring injury had left Arduino unable to practice as late as Wednesday, but he came back to take second in the event.

Matt Farmer picked up four in the steeplechase on Saturday, and Brad Rowe added two in the 1,500. The other four came Saturday when Gordon Christie placed in the 10,000. Overall the Tigers scored points in more events than any other team.

Coming on top of the Triple Crown, achieved in winning the cross-country, indoor and outdoor Heptagonals for the first time ever, this makes quite a year for the Princeton track team. Penn was the last Ivy team to win this event, turning the trick in 1972.

the number of time PHS committed the third out with men in scoring position. It happened 87 times.

"That's ridiculous. If it happens 25 times, that's a lot," insisted O'Neill. "We were taking ourselves out of games."

PHS NETMEN STUMBLE
In NJSIAA Tournament. This is not the year of the Little Tiger on the tennis court.

Princeton High School was ousted from the NJSIAA Central Jersey Group II tournament last week by Holmdel, 3-2. PHS (15-4) won two of three singles matches, but stumbled again in the doubles competition. It lost both and the match.

In the first singles, Princeton's Jacob Leschly defeated Larry Hirsch, 6-4, 6-4, and Robin Taylor won the third singles, 7-6, 6-3. Keith Goldfeld was a 6-3, 6-3 loser in the second singles.

Both doubles were hard fought. Andy Phillips and Dave Rosenfeld fell to Holmdel's Mike Lam and Bill Weisstein, 5-7, 3-6, while Mike Crystal and Tim Kingston went down in three sets 7-6, 3-6, 3-6. The win was Holmdel's 16th in 18 matches.

HUN LOSES BID
For .500 Season. If the Hun baseball team wins its scheduled season's final game against Lawrence High, it still won't achieve coach Bill McQuade's goal of a .500 season.

The Raiders lost two of three last week for an 8-11 record, bowing to two of the top-ranked teams in the area: 7-3 to Lawrenceville and 9-1 to Ewing on Friday. In between, Hun crushed Gill-St. Bernards, 17-0.

Ewing cruised to its 19th win in 24 starts behind the pitching of Jim Haggerty, who was making his varsity debut. Haggerty limited Hun to three hits while his counterpart Tim Landis (5-4) was surrendering eight to the Blue Devils, including two each by Tom Elder and Shannon Patterson. Ewing pushed three runs across in the first and added two more in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Gill was no match for Hun, as the visitors made it easy by committing six errors.

It was not as if the Raiders needed any help. Rich Stout slammed the door on the Gill batters, allowing just two hits, while his teammates were raking the opposing hurlers for 17. Included in the Hun barrage were triples by Martin Sumners, Chris Hunninghake, Kris Wronski and Stout and three doubles.

Hun began the week by having to face the area's top-ranked team in Lawrenceville. Larry hurler Greg Fetter (3-1) limited Hun to one run and four singles.

Although Lawrenceville collected only four off Landis, who took the loss, it bunched

PDS Girl's Lacrosse Team Beats Kent Place To Capture Second Consecutive State Title

If the predictions of its coach hold true, it may be the end of an era for the Princeton Day girls lacrosse team, but, oh, what an era it has been.

The Panthers defeated Kent Place, 13-8, last Wednesday to capture their second consecutive state championship. They have reached the finals the last four years, losing to Stuart in 1979 and 1980, both times in overtime.

Last year, PDS posted a perfect 13-0 record, finally beating Stuart in the tournament finals in double overtime. This spring the girls ran the undefeated streak to 23, before losing to Princeton High in a return match, 14-9. They recovered from that loss, and handed an undefeated Collingswood team its first defeat in 13 games. Collingswood is tops in the tough South Jersey public school league.

In this year's tournament, the Blue and White blew out Stuart for the third time, 15-5, and then knocked off Kent Place, a team it had beaten earlier in regular season play, and finished with a 13-1 mark.

The game was close until the last five minutes of play, with no more than one or two goals separating the two teams. PDS grabbed an early lead on a goal by Annie Drezner, but quickly fell behind, 3-1, as Kent Place employed a zone defense with nine of their 12 players.

PDS rallies. As the half wore on, PDS began to break through, and goals by Louise Matthews, Jenny Powers and Suzie Haynes put the Blue and White back on top. Kent Place knotted the score at 4-4 before the half ended.

After the intermission, Matthews scored twice to give the Panthers a lead they never lost. Kent Place stayed in contention, but tallies by Jessie Drezner and Haynes left PDS ahead, 9-8, with time running out. At that point Drezner fired in three in a row, and Matthews added her fourth to insure the victory, and another championship.

Coach Kim Bedesem, who has guided the team through these glory years, felt that the balanced scoring was one of the main factors of success. Matthews had 40 goals, Jessie Drezner, 38, Haynes and Powers, 29 each, with others not far behind. "This meant other schools could not double-team any one of our players, because others would still be able to score," Bedesem commented.

While still savoring this year's accomplishments, Bedesem feels the championship era may be at an end, at least for a while. "The team loses nine seniors through graduation," she pointed out. "Two of them, Jessie and Suzie, have played for me for four years. There is no one who can compare with them."

In addition, Ann Desmond, Alice Gano, Tracy Macgruder, Kate Murdoch, Jenny Powers, Ann Metcalf and Lealea Erdman will depart. A similar number graduated from last year's squad, but a strong jayvee team supplied several players who were able to move into varsity competition with ease. Next year that will not be the case.

But Bedesem will still have a strong nucleus of players, including Matthews, Annie Drezner and Janet Zawadsky to build around, and with her at the helm no one is likely to find the Panthers a soft touch in '83.

two in the fourth inning when it plated four runs, combining a two-run error, an RBI squeeze bunt and a run-scoring single by Ron Kane. The win was Lawrenceville's 17th against only two losses.

PHS IS SECOND

In Central Jersey Track Meet. For the past several years, Princeton High and Asbury Park have been battling each other tooth and nail for supremacy in the NJSIAA Central Jersey state competition. Last year the two tied for first place.

This year, the Little Tigers failed to keep pace with the strong shore team, finishing second with 39 points to Asbury's 63 in the Central Jersey meet held in South Plainfield.

PHS had two individual champions. Junior Stephan Fletcher won the 110 high hurdles in a record time of 14.2. The old mark of 14.3 was set by Fletcher last year. Teammate Wayne Davis was second in 14.8.

Another junior, Bill Bushnell, who seems to improve with every passing week, won the 3,200 distance run with a clocking of 9:38.8, almost nine seconds faster than the second-place finisher.

Lamont Fletcher, running with a heavily-taped thigh, finished second in the 100 dash (11.2) and the 400 intermediate hurdles (54.5).

PHS gained other points on a second by Davis in the 200, a second in the 1,600 relay, a third by Tom Murray in the shot put, and a fourth by Jon Woolston in the 800 and Ken McKellar in the high jump. Jim Waltman finished fifth in the 1,600.

PHS coach Marc Anderson predicted after the meet that his Little Tigers would have a good shot in the Group II meet Saturday at Rutgers Stadium. "Depth means a lot in this meet," he said. "But next week it will depend on how many stars you have."

PHS Girls Third. In the girls Central Jersey Group II Sectional meet held at Flemington, PHS finished third with 21 points. Asbury Park won this meet, too, with 36½ points.

Sophomore Gail Woolston was Princeton's lone gold medal winner when she captured the 400 by a step in 59.7. Alyson Brandt finished second in the 400 hurdles in 67.9--0.6 of a second behind Asbury Park's Terri James--and PHS finished second to Asbury in the 1,600 relay - 4:08.1 to 4:09.6.

Gladys Rice, Princeton's premier performer in the regular season where she dominated the 100 and 200 dashes and the long jump, was third in the long jump and fourth in the 200.

Coach Lamont Fletcher

commented that the day's cold and dampness had affected the senior's legs while she was forced to stand around and wait for the long jump event.

Earlier in the week, PHS ran its dual meet record to 7-1 with a 71½-50½ victory over Hopewell Valley.

Rice won the 100, long jump and javelin, while Nadia White took the 800 and high jump. Gail Woolston was a double winner, taking the 200 and 400 events.

Other winners were Jane Webb (1,600), Alyson Brandt (400 hurdles) and Fran Johnston (discus).

PHS GIRLS END 10-3

In Lacrosse. The Princeton High School girls Lacrosse team ended its regular season last week with two wins and a loss to finish with a 10-3 record.

Now it is on to the state competition for the Little Tigers. If the sixth-seeded Blue and White stops 11th-seeded Chatham, a team it has already defeated this season, in the opening round, it will play again on Friday. "We're looking forward to the states," said PHS coach Joyce Jones.

On Friday in the season finale, PHS stopped Summit, 12-3, a team it had crushed, 22-6, in its opener. Jones described Summit as "one of the most improved teams we've played."

Princeton's high scoring Kathy Kahny rammed home five goals in the first-half before Jones took her out to rest her for the state competition. This gave Kahny 57 for the season, bettering the school record of 55 which she established last year.

Steadily-improving sophomore Harper Huff, who scored the game's first goal 36 seconds into the contest, and Ann Bakoulis each scored twice and Ann Varney and Karen Hendrickson contributed single goals.

The previous day, PHS routed Morristown, 13-1, as Kahny scored six goals, three in each half. Her first came just after 45 seconds had elapsed.

Huff, who leads the team in assists with 14, added two more as did center Nora Oates. Pam Jennings, Bakoulis and Mary Allys Heeg all scored one.

Bow to Montville. PHS began the week with a 12-10 loss to Montville. Against the same team earlier in the season at the Princeton High field, the Little Tigers suffered a one-goal loss.

Kahny again was superb on offense, scoring six goals again to give her 17 for the week. Ann Varney had two, Heeg one and defensive wing, Debbie Cedenone one. Her goal was the game's first.

On defense, Jones cited the play of Rita Sweeney, Katy Heinzl and Sally Gorman who lead the team in blocks and interceptions. In the Montville game, goalie Kiki Van Raalte recorded her 200th save of the season.

DRIER, DAVIS VICTORS

In Springdale Tournament. The men's McGraw Tournament at Springdale Golf Club proved to be no exception to Springdale's reputation for good scores and come-from-behind victories.

Although Stu Drier and Craig Davis were behind the leaders on the first day of play, they forged to victory Sunday, with a fine 62.

After posting a 65 on the first day, their combined score of 127 topped the second-place team of Moore Gates and Gene Gillespie, by five strokes. Gates and Gillespie carded a respectable 132.

TOURNAMENT WON

By Sweet Jersey Corn. Princeton-based Sweet Jersey Corn, Mercer County Women's A league softball champions the past two years, recently won the Rascals Spring Classic Tournament held in Woodbridge. Including last year, it was the third consecutive tournament victory for the Corn team.

Ten teams were entered in the double elimination event, including 3 Seasons, runner-up to SJC the past two seasons in Mercer County. In its opening game, Sweet Jersey Corn was an easy 14-0 winner over Nutley Sun, paced by the three-hit pitching of Lou Ann Slocum. Corn stumbled, however, in game two, losing a 3-2 decision to the Mean Machine in extra innings. The loss dropped SJC into the losers' bracket.

The Corn responded by winning its next three games, topping the Avergers, 12-4, Swanne's Bar, 15-2, and the Teddy Bears, 8-1, to earn the right to return the next day.

During the streak, the Corn hitting was led by Debbie Breithaupt, Dee Pearce, Dee Vertucci, Beth Muzyka and Lisa Schmidt.

In its first game the next morning, Sweet Jersey Corn found itself embroiled in its toughest game of the tournament.

The game with My 3 Sons from Bristol, Pa. see-sawed first one team, then the other taking the lead. In the last inning with the scored tied, 5-5, Corn pitcher Slocum connected for a solo home run to give her team a 6-5 victory.

In its next outing, SJC avenged its loss to the Mean Machine with a 11-6 win behind the hitting of Marianne Smith, who had two hits including a homer and five RBIs, Vertucci and Sallie Toscano.

The win also matched Sweet Jersey Corn against undefeated 3 Seasons, which it would have to defeat twice to win the tournament. SJC defeated its rival, 8-1, in their first meeting.

Toscano had three hits in the game and Carol Knapp added a sparkling defensive play in the third. With two outs and the bases loaded with 3-Season runners, the Corn right-fielder robbed the Season's strongest hitter of a grand slam when she made an over-the-shoulder, backhand catch, deep in the outfield.

In the championship game, Corn defeated 3 Seasons, 10-5, as Slocum allowed just five hits in blanking the losers for the first five innings. SJC batted around in the fifth and was paced by the hitting of Jean Whitehouse (two triples), Vertucci (homer), Michelle Morgan and captain Dee Pearce.

Breithaupt, Vertucci and Knapp all batted over .500 for the tournament. Beth Muzyka led the team in RBIs with nine while Whitehouse had four triples and Pearce two home runs to lead the victorious Corn team in extra-base hits.

ANDY'S TAVERN 2-0

In Women's Softball League. After one week of play, Andy's Tavern is the early leader in the Princeton Women's Slow Pitch Softball League with a 2-0 record.

Conte's Bar and Mike's Tavern are both 1-0, while Koffe Kup and Princeton Indoor Tennis Center are 0-1. This Wednesday evening, Andy's will meet Conte's and PITS will oppose Koffe Kup. Games are played at Community Park fields, starting at 6:15. Admission is free.

Last week, Andy's Tavern pounded out 16 hits in defeating PITS for its second win, as winning pitcher Mary Fox allowed four hits. After Andy's had scored three runs in the second, PITS tied it in the fourth only to have the victors come right back with four runs in the same inning.

The hitting attack was led by Marie Wszolek and Karla Pullen, both of whom batted 3-for-3, and by Marty Heard, Lisa Jablonski, Donna Woodruff and Judy Kroeper, each of whom had two hits. Kroeper had a double and two RBIs. Third baseman Marjy Weinkop and shortstop Lisa Schmidt were involved in 12 of the 18 PITS outs to lead the Tavern's defense.

Andy's began the week with an 18-3 victory over Koffe Kup, scoring seven in the first and adding six more in the third to take a commanding 15-3 lead. In the fifth inning, the 15-run rule was invoked whereby a team is declared the winner after five complete innings if it is leading by 15 runs or more.

Once again, Foxx allowed just four hits in getting the win. At the plate she was 2-for-4.

Woodruff swung a big bat for the winners. She rapped a double and triple, scored four runs and collected four hits in five at bats. Carey Crutcher and Skooter Petruska each contributed two hits to the Tavern attack. Two hits by Jayme Edwards and a Judi Grisham double and a single by Grace McEwen were the only hits yielded by Foxx.

Conte's Bar scored a total of seven runs in the fifth and sixth innings to break open a game with PITS en route to a 10-5 victory. Winning pitcher Cathy Burrough had three hits to helper cause.

Conte's got three hits each from Jackie Rock, Harriet Staub and Nancy Pesce. Peggy Wood drove in two runs with a triple. After Conte's had taken a two-run lead in the first — the big hit a Laine Ivan double — PITS went ahead 3-2 in the bottom of the inning, paced by a single by Carol Beske, Anne Williams's double, Cos Cosgrove's triple and another single by Liz Cramp.

Slugfest. Mike's Tavern, the defending league champion, outslugged Koffe Kup, 25-16, scoring five runs in the first, third and fourth innings and seven in the sixth. The battle produced 39 hits, 23 by Mike's. Marilyn Stevens was the winning pitcher.

Dee Pearce had a perfect day at the plate for Mike's. She pounded out five hits, including two home runs, in five appearances, drove in five and scored five runs. Deb Ficarro added four hits and scored five runs, Debbie Breithaupt had three hits, including a triple and double, Missy McCloskey and Elizabeth Zingg each had two hits and Grace Durland had a triple and 6 RBIs.

Joanne Rice and Lakay Broadway had three hits each for the losers, while Grisham, Sheila Kelly and Carman Lamar all batted 2-for-4.
